Shells In Growing Shanghai Gun Duel Menace Foreigners

Japanese Batter All Sections But Chinese Troops Hold Their Positions

City Rocks As In Earthquake

SHANGHAI (AP).—Japan's streamlined war machine struck at stubborn Chinese defenders on all fronts Friday, placing foreigners in serious danger from the spreading hostilities.

The new assault found China's armies holding virtually the same positions as when the Shanghai warfare started August 13.

Foreign troops guarding the northern boundary of the International Settlement were endangered as Japanese land and warship batteries carried out a furious bombardment of Chinese positions. Shrapnel sprayed the International Settlement, causing a considerable number of civilian casualties.

Shanghai's riverfront boundary was quickly ordered cleared of all pedestrians and the crowded areas fringing on the famous thoroughfare were soon desolated as the artillery duel progressed.

CITY IS SHAKEN

The detonations from the Japanese warships and the Chinese land batteries in Pootung rocked Shanghai like an earthquake.

One Japanese hospital ship was struck by several Chinese shells. There was an undetermined number of casualties.

An anti-aircraft shell of unknown origin fell midway between the U.S. consulate and the American Club, but claimed no victims. The base of a Japanese nine-inch shell ploughed into the heart of the barricades. It had first crashed through a neighboring Chinese warehouse. Had this not broken its momentum many of the guards undoubtedly would have been killed or wounded.

It was the eighth projectile to fall in the foreign positions since Thursday night. Thirteen Chinese were wounded and a guard narrowly missed death when seven three-inch Japanese shells crashed into the sector.

POOTUNG SHELLED

The Japanese destroyers stationed just off the International Settlement began bombarding Chinese positions in Pootung, the ruined industrial area across the Whangpoo, at noon Friday. Just northeast of the settlement the heaviest Japanese artillery yet to go into action around Shanghai joined in the shelling.

The Chinese batteries, deep within Pootung, replied and their shells crashed into the Japanese-occupied Yangtzepoo section of the International Settlement.

Chinese projectiles were striking increasingly nearer the Japanese consulate. Great geysers were thrown up in the turgid Whangpoo River as the shells splashed around the cruiser Idzumo, the Japanese flagship, and Japanese hospital ships.

Franc Lowest Since June 30

PARIS (AP)—A worried national treasury today saw the franc slide to 28.15 to the dollar, the lowest point since it was freed June 30 to see its "natural level."

Bankers attributed no small part of the money trouble to the dangerous state of affairs in the Mediterranean. They said holders of francs had been unloading because of fears of a Mediterranean conflict and resultant damage to French interests there.

Daring Man on Flying Cycle

It is the overhead the motorcyclist has to worry about in this hazardous stunt. If his vehicle should go too high or he should fail to duck enough, the rider would crash into the human arch and anything could happen. The feat of cycling was one of the many dangerous stunts on the programme of riding exhibitions given by the Royal Corps of Signals at Tring Park, London.

British Labor Backs Country's Defence Plans

Canada's Wheat Crop Estimated

OTTAWA (CP)—Total wheat production in Canada was placed at 188,191,000 bushels in the first estimate issued today by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The total is composed of 168,999,000 bushels of spring wheat and 19,192,000 bushels of fall wheat.

"The drought damage in 1937, particularly in Saskatchewan, has been unparalleled in the previous crop history of the prairie provinces," said the report, "with the average yield per acre at a new low level."

Support For Rearmament Voted By Trades Congress

NORWICH, Norfolk, Eng. (CP)—The British Trades Union Congress, by an overwhelming majority, today voted support for rearmament after its general secretary, Sir Walter Citrine, had warned defence measures could not "await the advent of a Labor government."

"I cannot conceive of Germany and Italy arming as rapidly as they have done, without some definite purpose to threaten the world's peace," Sir Walter declared.

"I want this country to be in a position to face this challenge in combination with other peace-loving states. As much as I distrust the British government, I distrust the intentions of Mussolini and Hitler a great deal more."

The trade unionists voted 3,544,000 to 224,000, by card poll, to endorse the report on defence and foreign policy of the National Council of Labor, which includes representatives of the Labor Party as well as of unions. Cheers greeted announcement of the result.

In a strong plea for approval of the report, Sir Walter said there was nothing "the present government would be more delighted about than if we gave the impression the Labor Party was not prepared to defend this country if necessary."

"If we have come to the conclusion that some measure of rearmament is necessary, then common sense demands that rearmament cannot await the advent of a Labor government."

Sir Walter said he did not believe any government would wage war of any kind without the backing of the Labor movement and urged the congress "not to underrate" its own influence.

OPPOSITION VIEWS

The opposition was led by Aneurin Bevan, Member of Parliament for a South Wales constituency, and speakers variously urged policies ranging from isolation to severe punishment of "Fascist invaders" by democratic countries.

British Vessel Is Convoyed

GIBRALTAR (AP)—H.M.S. Havock was reported tonight to be escorting the 1,435-ton British steamship Gibel Zerkon from Gibraltar to Valencia to guard her from Mediterranean pirate submarines.

On September 1 a torpedo was fired at the destroyer Havock herself.

WILL DISCUSS YUKON PLAN

Pattullo to Meet Crerar in Vancouver Next Week

Discussions relative to the proposed transfer of Yukon Territory to British Columbia will be held in Vancouver next week between Hon. T. A. Crerar, Minister of Natural Resources, and Premier T. D. Pattullo.

The Premier was advised this morning Mr. Crerar will arrive on the Coast next Wednesday. The Premier will go to Vancouver this week-end to welcome delegates to a convention of mining engineers and will remain over to meet the federal minister.

In the Yukon proposal, a tentative arrangement between the province and the federal government was made. Ottawa was to pay British Columbia $125,000 a year for five years toward administration, would retain certain services, and other matters were left for future negotiation.

Before anything of a definite character is attempted the whole subject will come up in the British Columbia Legislature.

On his return here next week the Premier will make plans for a trip to Ottawa. He expects to leave about the end of this month.

Among other subjects he will take up is the Doukhobor problem. The Premier said today he will press for Dominion assistance in dealing with the matter. It has gone beyond an ordinary question for the police.

Soon after Mr. Pattullo comes back from Ottawa the Legislature will meet, probably late in October.

Man Questioned On Mattson Slaying

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP)—Boston authorities telegraphed police here today they were holding a man named Maurice Larius for questioning about the kidnapping-slaying of 10-year-old Charles Mattson of Tacoma last January.

Police here had been seeking Larius in connection with a hold-up of a taxi driver here last October.

Big Population Is Hitler's Plea

He Tells Women at Nazi Congress Germany Wants Children

NUREMBERG, Germany (AP)—Bachelor Adolf Hitler commanded a cheering throng of Nazi women today to "be yourselves and have more children."

The Chancellor declared in his annual speech to the Nazi women's organization "children are the highest ambition of man and wife." The object of the Nazi movement, he explained, is the future generation.

Hitler spoke ironically of "foreign assertions German women are slaves."

His women hearers laughed when he added it is "impossible" for some foreigners to understand why Nazis have a women's organization.

"They say to me German women are trampled upon," he added. The crowd laughed again. Enthusiastic Nazi women stormed Ludolph Hall to see Hitler.

Holder of a delicate position in these days of unpredictable incidents in China's fight against the Japanese armed forces, C. T. Wang, Chinese ambassador to the United States, has had a number of talks recently with Secretary of State Hull at Washington. It was when he was alighting from his auto at the State Department on a visit a few days ago that the above picture was taken.

TWO AIRPLANE RACERS KILLED

Wing-Com. P. C. Sherren and E. G. Hilton Lose Lives in England

SCARBOROUGH, Yorkshire, Eng. (CP-Havas)—Wing-Com. Percy C. Sherren, veteran Canadian member of the Royal Air Force, was killed today when his plane crashed near here during the King's Cup Air Race.

Sherren, together with his pilot, Wing-Com. E. G. Hilton, crashed in full sight of 1,000 persons. The wings of their plane crumpled and the tail broke off. Both men were killed instantly.

Wing-Com. Sherren served with the Canadian infantry in France before he was transferred to the Royal Flying Corps in 1916. He was granted a permanent Royal Air Force commission in 1919, when he was gazetted also as a reserve officer of the Canadian militia.

The rank of Wing-Com. in the Royal Air Force corresponds with that of lieutenant-colonel in the army or commander in the navy.

Twenty-seven planes started out from Hatfield this morning for the 1,442-mile, two-day flight.

Chico Marx Pays A Surprise Visit

Actor and Wife Delighted With Island; Plan to Return

Chico Marx of the Marx Brothers paid a surprise visit to Victoria last night on his way back to work after a fishing trip to Campbell River. The famous film star plans to return next year.

He left the Empress Hotel at 6:30 this morning and will be in Los Angeles at 4 this afternoon in plenty of time to prepare for a scheduled broadcast from Hollywood this evening.

Mr. Marx arrived at the Empress with his wife at 10 last night. A chartered plane came here from Seattle this morning in time to allow him to catch the regular 8 o'clock plane southbound from the Puget Sound city.

Mrs. Marx was still at the Empress Hotel today. She will leave shortly with a party of friends on the yacht Invader, which was tied up today in the Inner Harbor after bringing Chico to Victoria.

ISLAND PICTURESQUE

"I think this is the most picturesque country I've ever seen," said Mrs. Marx this morning.

"There was a lake in New York we used to visit, and we thought that was beautiful, but this is better still."

They had great sport at Campbell River and caught lots of fish. Chico was particularly proud of a large king salmon he hooked. Mrs. Marx herself caught smaller fish.

Canoeists Tell of 7,165-mile Trip

S. Taylor and G. Pope to Write Book on New York-Nome Trip

NEW YORK (CP)—A pair of bronzed ex-bookkeepers were back in Manhattan today, 18 months after they forsook their ledgers to travel waterways of Canada and the United States on the first recorded canoe trip from New York to Nome, Alaska.

The 25-year-old adventurers, Sheldon Taylor and Geoffrey Pope, said they had had the time of their lives and the smartest thing they ever did was to give up their pencils for paddles.

The two canoeists, who brought home a two-month-old male-male puppy named Simia, plan to write a book about their adventures on the 7,165-mile voyage.

They said they never would forget the time near Fort Smith, N.W.T., when, during a wild buffalo hunt, a wounded bull charged Taylor and was killed by the canoeist when he fired while lying under the animal's hooves.

Another time the boys' canoe got caught in a stampede of white whales in Bering Sea. They said they suffered numerous duckings before the voyage was completed August 11 at Nome. Their long trip.

Australia Ship Rates to Rise

LONDON (CP)—Passenger rates for steamship lines operate from the United Kingdom and North America to Australia and New Zealand will be increased approximately 10 per cent October 1, it was learned today.

The rise was attributed to "increased and still rising operating costs."

NYON, Switzerland (CP-Havas)—The nine-power "anti-piracy" conference, acting as a technical committee, tonight abandoned the project for giving merchant ships in the Mediterranean naval convoys, but retained in principle the British plan to divide the inland sea into two zones for surveillance.

The waters west of Malta would be guarded by the French and British fleets, while those east of Malta would be patrolled by the fleets of the other powers represented at the conference.

GENEVA (AP)—Foreign Commissioner Litvinoff warned the nine-nation Mediterranean conference today that Russia "must and will take its own measures" against submarine pirates. This was interpreted as a threat of reprisals against Italy.

In an impassioned address not long after the nine powers had met at Nyon, near here, to adopt a collective means of stopping attacks on neutral vessels, M. Litvinoff declared:

"The Soviet government cannot allow anyone to destroy its state property!"

ALL KNOW, HE SAYS

He linked these words with a thinly-veiled accusation of Italy as a "pirate government."

Everyone, he said, knew the country he was referring to.

Then M. Litvinoff brought into the open his warning that Russia will act, alone if necessary, to stop the pirate submarines.

She already has accused Italy directly of sinking two of her ships in the Aegean.

The Soviet-Foreign Commissar did say Russia was ready to take part in collective measures against the pirates; that she was confident the measures would be "effective and immediate."

But he served notice "The Soviet Union cannot remain inactive in the hope that its legitimate rights may, perhaps, be defended by other states, or by an international organization."

EDEN SPEARS

After he had spoken, Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden, British Foreign Secretary, arose and expressed regret Italy and Germany were not represented at the conference.

But, he added, this should not stop the conference in its duty.

Then the conference went into secret session.

QUICK MUTUAL ACTION

M. Litvinoff spoke just a little while after France and Great Britain, through French Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos, had called on the conferees to join swiftly in an emergency mutual assistance scheme to annihilate submarines in automatic fashion on the Mediterranean high sea lanes.

Even earlier, the League of Nations Council had arranged to air the Spanish government's accusation.

Submarine Is Reported Sunk

CARTAGENA, Spain (AP)—Spanish government gunners today believed they had sunk an unidentified submarine off the coast near this government-held Mediterranean port.

Shore batteries opened heavy fire when the submarine appeared. Later a large amount of oil was seen floating on the surface.

Shore batteries also fired at another submarine in the same vicinity, but there were no indications a hit had been made.

JAPAN EXPECTS LENGTHY WAR

Foreign Minister Koki Hirota as a preliminary to his audience with Emperor Hirohito tomorrow, during which he will present his credentials as the new British Ambassador to Japan.

Another development was the announcement that Japan and Poland had agreed to raise their respective legations to the status of embassies. This step had been preceded by numerous manifestations, sympathies linking the two countries, usually emphasizing the analogies in the geographical situations of the two countries, adjacent to the borders of the Soviet Union and their common anti-communist sympathies.

REPORTS IN EUROPE

The activities of the Italian ambassador drew attention because of the revival of reports in Europe that Italy was about to adhere to the German-Japanese anti-communist pact.

One of the obstacles to closer Italo-Japanese relations was understood to be the presence of Italian aviation instructors at Nanking.

The International Settlement was thrown into a panic by the renewed outbreak of warfare on the settlement's fringes.

JAPANESE REINFORCEMENTS

The Japanese bombardment was believed to be a covering action for the landing of reinforcements for Japan's army of 60,000.

Japanese troops were sent ashore from 30 Japanese transports in the Yangtze off Wusung, 12 miles north of Shanghai.

Heavy batteries of artillery were being ferried from the transports and lighters were taking off great quantities of ammunition and supplies for the expeditionary force. More transports were on the way from the Japanese homeland.

Powerful tractors snaked 32 pieces of heavy field artillery into the Yangtzepoo sector—within the International Settlement—Friday. Until then six-inch guns had been the heaviest land artillery used by the Japanese. The Chinese have had nothing larger than three-inch pieces.

It was four weeks today since the conflict between Japan and China engulfed this commercial port city of 3,500,000 people—the greatest trading centre of the Orient.

Yet both sides occupy much the same positions as at the beginning, with the overwhelming mechanized Japanese force unable to budge the Chinese. The defenders are holding the Japanese to narrow areas fringing the two rivers that form the triangular Shanghai delta.

COMMUNISTS IN FIELD

PEIPING (AP) — Powerful Chinese Communist forces of Gen. Mao Tse-tung are reported preparing to take the field in Shensi and Shansi provinces to block the thrust of the Japanese army in northwest China.

The first independent word of the Communist forces in many weeks was brought here Friday by foreign missionaries evacuating the interior.

They reported they had seen long trains of ammunition, light and heavy artillery and all sorts of war supplies moving westward from Gengyang across the Yellow River to reinforce the Shensi Communists.

Their difficulties with the central government at Nanking, buried in the face of the present crisis, the Communists, long bitter foes of the spread of Japanese influence, were awaiting orders to cross the Yellow River into Shansi province and bolster the troops of the aged warlord, Gen. Yen Hsi-shan.

The 100,000 well-trained Communist troops would be added to an equal number of Shansi provincial and central government troops already concentrated in northern Shansi province, where Japanese have penetrated after an advance from Peiping through southern Chahar province.

Reinforcements from Japan—many of them high school lads whose spare time is spent searching out Chinese poetry books—were being concentrated here for the push into northwest China along the railroad from Peiping to Suiyuan province.

Bands of Chinese irregulars were harrying the Japanese operations around Peiping.

SHELLS NEAR WARSHIP
SHANGHAI (AP) — Explosives rained down on the Whangpoo, Shanghai's outlet to the Yangtze, Friday.

One projectile narrowly missed a British destroyer. Another whizzed over the French flagship anchored across from Shanghai at Pootung.

Warfare was carried to south China ports with a bombardment of Swatow.

est day's run was 136 miles, when they were going down the Mackenzie River.

From New York the canoeists headed up the Hudson River to Lake Champlain, along the Richelieu, St. Lawrence and Ottawa rivers to the Great Lakes and through them to Port Arthur, Ontario. Then they went to Lake Winnipeg and then up the Saskatchewan River. They portaged 12 miles to the Clearwater River and the Mackenzie system, which they followed to Fort Smith, where they wintered.

From there, the bookkeepers traversed Great Slave Lake and the Mackenzie, Rat and Yukon rivers, finally coming out on the Bering Sea at St. Michael and following the coast 400 miles to Nome.

SHIELDS AWARDED

This forenoon the Canadian Chamber of Commerce awarded shields for effective work done by boards of trade and Chambers of Commerce in campaigning to reduce fire losses in their communities.

The shields were awarded to boards and chambers in Winnipeg, St. Boniface, Man.; Kenora, Ont., and North Battleford, Sask. Prizes in the "health and safety" contest conducted each year by the Dominion chamber, were awarded to branches in Hamilton, Ont.; Kitchener, Ont.; Kamloops, B.C., and Shediac, N.B.

This afternoon delegates left to visit plants of Canadian White Pine Company Limited and the British Columbia Plywoods Company Limited, near Vancouver, with a drive later through the fertile farm lands of the Fraser Valley.

At midnight they will board a coastal steamship for Victoria, where an official reception will be held at Government House by Hon. Eric W. W. Hamber, Lieut. Governor of British Columbia.

VANCOUVER (CP) — The 11th annual convention of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce ended this afternoon with adoption of the report of the policy committee.

FOREIGN TRADE

In reference to foreign trade, the meeting endorsed a policy committee recommendation that Canada complete new trade agreements to extend foreign trade. It favored a United States-British trade agreement which did not overlook the rights of Canada.

The chamber recommended that the federal government should inaugurate a policy of "selective" immigration with the aim to obtaining the greatest number of immigrants, preferably of British stock.

CHICO MARX PAYS A SURPRISE VISIT

"We had grand weather all the time, and that made it perfect," she said.

PLAN TO RETURN

If it is at all possible the Marxes hope to come back to Vancouver Island next year.

"Chico's putting his fishing gear away all ready to bring it back next year," said Mrs. Marx. "But you know how it is with actors. . . . We always find our plans spoiled."

She and her husband played in British Columbia 16 years ago, said Mrs. Marx. They found the cities had grown vastly since then.

The few people who saw Chico at the Empress last night found the comedian very different in real life from his screen characters. They were impressed with his quiet voice and almost shy manner.

Actually Chico says he would rather play bridge than make pictures, and he enjoys getting off into the country and keeping away from crowds and publicity, as he has been able to do on this trip.

Mrs. Marx is a New Yorker of Russian extraction with black hair, black eyes and a superb sun-tan. She is a golfer of note, although she says she is too lazy to take the game seriously.

Chico, whose real name is Leo, and Mrs. Marx have a daughter, Maxine, who has been studying dramatic art with Madame Oupskyl of the Moscow Art School. Mrs. Marx is not very keen on the idea of a stage career for her daughter. She thinks she ought to find a desirable young man and get married.

YOUNG CO-ED IS KIDNAPPED

Stanford University Girl Wounded By Man; Thrown From Auto

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP)—A 17-year-old Stanford University co-ed told police today a heavy-set young man had kidnapped her at pistol point and slashed her with a pair of scissors in an attempt to assault her on a lonely hillside.

Chief of Police Howard Zink withheld the girl's name, disclosing only that she was the attractive daughter of a prominent Palo Alto family. He said the girl had not been criminally attacked.

The girl appeared hysterical, late Thursday night at the home of a Stanford University professor, Dr. Joseph S. Davis. Her face was bleeding from two gashes she said had been inflicted with scissors.

MAN IN AUTO

Chief Zink said the girl told him she had gone to her garage to take out her automobile for a visit with friends. In the automobile, she related, was a man who pressed a pistol to her side and forced her to drive into the hills west of the campus.

The girl said he forced her to stop the automobile and attempted to attack her. In a scuffle, she said, she was a pair of scissors. She grabbed them and tried to fight him off, but he man wrenched them from her hand and twice slashed her cheeks.

Finally, Zink said the girl told him, the man pushed her out of the automobile and drove away. She said she lost consciousness for a time and then made her way to Dr. Davis's house.

Municipalities To Draft Brief

Proposals at Nanaimo Convention to Be Presented to B.C. Finance Minister

NANAIMO (CP)—The Union of British Columbia Municipalities, having completed its two-day convention Thursday, has left in the hands of a special committee the task of drafting a brief on municipal affairs for presentation to Finance Minister John Hart.

The brief, which will be drafted by a special committee under the chairmanship of Reeve William Crouch of Saanich and will include the claim of the municipalities regarding financial responsibilities between municipal and provincial government, will be presented to the Finance Minister before the opening fall session of the provincial Legislature.

Several resolutions sponsored by representatives from various parts of the province were endorsed by the convention before it turned to the task of electing officers and executive and winding up the meeting.

TAX REDUCTION

Among the main resolutions passed Thursday were:

A Victoria resolution "that the provincial Legislature at its next session be requested to enact legislation providing that in computing income tax payable to the province, any person being owner or mortgagee of land who pays taxes, insurance or repairs in respect of any such land from which no revenue is derived, shall be permitted to reduce his taxable income by the amount of the said taxes, insurance and repairs so paid."

An Oak Bay resolution "that section 202 be amended by substituting 'an addition or a reduction as the case may be.' The resolution dealt with taxation of lots with street frontage.

A resolution from the district of Pitt Meadows regarding licensed teamsters picking up goods in the district. The resolution was aimed at Orientals in the interior delivering goods without a trucker's license.

NEW OFFICERS

Reeve R. C. Macdonald of Coquitlam, formerly first vice-president, was elected president of the union by acclamation. Reeve J. B. Leyland of West Vancouver was elected first vice-president and J. W. Provost of Vernon was chosen second vice-president. R. F. Sewell of Saanich was elected secretary-treasurer.

The executive was elected as follows: Commissioner A. Graham of Mission; Mayor J. P. Morgan of Nelson; Mayor George C. Miller of Vancouver; Alderman James Adam of Victoria; Mayor T. A. Love of Grand Forks; Mayor John Barsby of Nanaimo; Reeve J. T. Brown of Surrey; Reeve William Crouch of Saanich and Mayor Fred Hume of New Westminster.

NAVAL PATROLS TO HUNT FOR PIRATE SUBMARINES

cussion of Italy as a submarine pirate at sessions next week.

M. Delbos told the delegates assembled to seek a means of Mediterranean security.

"It is impossible to permit the present situation of insecurity to continue without the gravest of perils."

In the same breath he said "we regret" that Italy and Germany, "because of reasons affecting them," considered it necessary to boycott the conference.

M. Delbos spoke with the full authority of French and British governments, in complete agreement on a formula for scuttling the pirate submarines that have brought chaos to the Mediterranean and fear to the world.

DELBOS CHAIRMAN

A few minutes earlier M. Delbos had been elected unanimously president of the conference.

ence. All the 12 powers invited were represented except Italy, Germany and Albania.

(Albania is under the financial and diplomatic sway of Rome.)

MUST ACT WITH SPEED

M. Delbos, speaking of the suggestion from Italy and Germany the piracy matters be referred in toto to the London Non-intervention Committee of 27 nations, said this could not be done "because we must act quickly."

The conference at Nyon, he said, must swiftly "adopt by common accord, for the period in which danger exists, special measures to assure the free circulation of merchantmen in the Mediterranean."

CALLED DISGRACEFUL

Speaking after M. Delbos, M. Litvinoff started off this way:

"Such a disgraceful phenomenon as piracy on the high seas—organized not as in ages past by individual criminals, gangs or mutineers, but by the government of a European state—was bound to come to the world's attention."

Then he said this piracy had come from "submarines whose names have been painted over, whose national flag was concealed, whose crews wore disguised uniforms!"

He shouted: "Only those states can avoid participating in this conference which consider themselves guaranteed against piracy—either because they organize it themselves as an instrument of national policy, or because of their extreme intimacy with the pirates."

"Only such states are interested in torpedoing this conference."

(Italy and her Nazi ally, Germany, from the start, have boycotted the conference).

They would not come to the sessions at nearby Nyon because the Soviet Union accused Italy, in two direct protests, of torpedoing and sinking two Soviet ships in the Aegean Sea.

M. Litvinoff left no doubt as to his meaning.

"Everybody knows," he cried, "the name of the state which is pursuing this piratical object. The name is on everyone's lips."

"Those states which have suffered, or may suffer, cannot be denied the right of pronouncing that name."

While the conference at Nyon accepted in principle the British plan for two zones of surveillance in the Mediterranean, with international naval groups patrolling them, the preliminary plan as originally drawn up by British and French experts would have divided the Mediterranean into territorial waters and high seas. Riparian states would have retained full control of their territorial waters and done their own policing there. But along the great Mediterranean sea route, all craft found under water would have been regarded automatically as piratical, to be open to immediate attack by warships of a nine-power international fleet. Submarines on the surface, flying their national colors, would not have been molested.

It was said that when it was finally drawn up, the Nyon protocol would be submitted to Italy and Germany, either directly or through the London Non-intervention Committee of 27 states.

FASCIST STATEMENT

ROME (AP)—A Fascist official, told tonight of Soviet Commissar Litvinoff's veiled threat of Russian sea reprisals against further "Italian" submarine attacks, said grimly:

"That would be an aggression with which we would know how to deal."

ACCUSED BY ITALY

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Premier Mussolini's newspaper accused Russia today of putting piracy into the Mediterranean.

Il Popolo d'Italia, in an apparently inspired article, charged that a "Hispano-Russian" submarine fired a torpedo at the British destroyer Havock September 1 off eastern Spain.

That was the incident which brought the question of repeated pirate attacks on neutral Mediterranean shipping to a head. At the same time there were broad hints in Great Britain that an Italian submarine was suspected as the Havock's attacker.

Il Popolo also blamed Russia for Spanish government aerial attacks on the Italian cruiser Barletta—and the German pocket battleship Deutschland—in May. These incidents led up to Germany's shelling of Spanish Almeria.

Loss of Trade
By Japan Seen

QUEBEC (CP)—Regret at the blow to Japan's trade which would follow the current Japanese aggression in China was expressed by Okyo Kadono of Tokyo, chairman of the Japanese economic mission which recently toured Europe and America. Mr.

Kadono landed Thursday from the liner Empress of Britain.

"I am very sorry indeed about the fighting in the Far East," Mr. Kadono said. "And I feel sure that many other Japanese at home are sad at the thought of the damage it will do to our empire's trade."

"We were getting along fine all over the world. When we left home relations between our country and China were of the best, but now they are shattered."

Dominion-Provincial Commission Announces It Is Ready For Hearings

OTTAWA (CP)—With plans for public hearings in every provincial capital and in Ottawa to commence as soon as the provincial government's submissions are ready, the Royal Commission on Dominion-Provincial Relations completed organization here Thursday.

Chief Justice N. W. Rowell of Ontario, chairman of the five-man commission, said he could not forecast a date for the opening session. "As soon as two or three of the provinces are ready with their submissions we shall start," he said.

Because of the "enormous task" before the commission, Chairman Rowell said evidence would be heard from Dominion and provincial governments and spokesmen for "recognized public organizations" which desire to be represented.

Persons representing only their own opinions will not be heard except in the possible event the commission desires light on some particular problem and calls an expert for that purpose.

Municipalities, which are the creations of the provinces and derive their jurisdiction and taxation powers from the provincial legislatures, will be represented before the commission by the provincial governments, Chairman Rowell said. If any provincial government desired its municipalities to go directly before the commission, there will be no objection.

MAY START IN OTTAWA

Members of the commission having completed their private conferences Thursday, no further meetings are expected until the taking of evidence actually starts and the scene of the opening may be in Ottawa as a preliminary to visits to the provincial capitals. The real investigation will start with the provinces, Chairman Rowell said.

In the meantime a great deal of research and private investigation will go forward by a corps of experts, the chairman said. He was not yet ready to announce personnel of the investigating group. It was possible their studies might take them outside the Dominion, but the commission itself would confine its activities to Canada.

Chief Justice Rowell said he was satisfied the terms of reference gave the commission direct instructions to study the British North America Act with a view to recommending changes in the constitution necessary to improve economic relations between the Dominion and the provinces.

CONFEDERATION BASIS

In announcing personnel of the commission a few weeks ago, Prime Minister King said, according to the terms of reference, that the central purpose was "to provide for a re-examination of the economic and financial basis of Confederation and of the distribution of legislative powers in the light of economic and social development of the last 70 years."

Provincial finances and ability of provinces to continue to discharge their obligations for social services and relief without further access to sources of revenue, will probably feature submissions from that quarter. The commission is specifically instructed to study this problem.

No province has indicated unwillingness to submit evidence, and several are well advanced in the preparation of their briefs, particularly in western Canada, the chairman said. He was satisfied every province would be represented.

Asked to define the meaning of a "recognized public organization," the chairman said the commission would be willing to hear representatives of "any bodies of public opinion." He mentioned, for instance, the Trades and Labor Council, the Canadian Council of Agriculture, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, Chambers of Commerce, Wheat Pools and the Canadian Bankers' Association.

It is not anticipated the commission will have completed its report in time for the next session of Parliament. There is also the possibility that before any attempt is made to draft legislation based on it, the report will go before a Dominion-provincial conference. This would open the opportunity for drafting of uniform legislation by provinces and Dominion.

A great volume of data has already been gathered at recent Dominion-provincial conferences and by investigations of the Bank of Canada on the subjects to be studied by the commission. This will be laid before the commission.

In addition to Chief Justice Rowell, the members of the commission are: Hon. Thibaudeau Rinfret, a justice of the Supreme Court of Canada; John W. Daffoe, president and editor of The Winnipeg Free Press; H. F. Angus, professor of economics at University of British Columbia, Vancouver; and R. A. MacKay, professor of government at Dalhousie University, Halifax. D. A. Skelton of the Bank of Canada, Ottawa, is secretary.

"HEIL HITLER"
HEARD IN U.S.

Chicago Times Tells of Activities at Nazi Youth Camps in Republic

CHICAGO — The Daily Times, in the second of a series of copyrighted articles, said today "health, Hitler, heils and hatred are the '4 H's' used by United States Nazis to prevent Americanization of children whose parents are members of the German-American Bund, nationwide organization of American Nazis."

"In the coming years all the unity and all the efforts will be required in order to put a stop to the former crippling by the Americanization of their young," declares the Bund yearbook, reprinted from the German magazine Deutsche Arbeit, in referring to children of Germans who have emigrated to America," the paper added.

MANY VOICES

Today's article said the yearbook stated the youth groups of the German-American Bund (Amerikadeutscher Volksbund) "are a real achievement for Germany."

As a result of this programme, the newspaper added, thousands of childish voices ring out with "Heil Hitlers" in German-American camps throughout the United States.

"American boys and girls sing hymns to Der Fuehrer and to the Vaterland they never have seen," the Times said. "Their youthful feet goose-step in a march of racial and religious hatred."

The newspaper said organization leaders insisted the youth were "the lifeline of our movement" and "must carry on our fight against Judaism, world Bolshevism and Communism."

The first article on Nazi efforts in the United States appeared in the Times Thursday.

INVESTIGATION CARRIED OUT

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation, acting under instructions from the U.S. Attorney-General, is conducting an extensive investigation into Nazi activities in this country, J. Edgar Hoover, F.B.I. chief, said here Thursday.

"We expect to make an extended report on the Nazi matter, but I can't say when we shall be ready to give this report to the Attorney-General," he told interviewers. "It will be several weeks, because we are going into this matter very thoroughly."

His attention called to an article in a Chicago newspaper saying congressional leaders were demanding an investigation, Hoover said:

"They are six months behind in their demands because six weeks ago the Attorney-General called on us to start the investigation and it began at once."

GERMAN REACTION

BERLIN (AP)—Foreign Office circles received with mixed amusement and irritation the report of The Chicago Daily Times on an alleged Nazi movement aiming to seize control in the United States.

A spokesman for the Foreign Office said: "We expect every German citizen of the United States to be a good German, but at the same time scrupulously to respect the laws of the country—just as we expect Americans in Germany to remain good Americans without meddling in German affairs."

The official German news agency (DNE) denied German military missions abroad are centres of Nazi propaganda.

BEATTY URGES LEADERSHIP

Ordinary People Must Guard Heritage of Dominion, Says C.P.R. Head

VANCOUVER (CP)—Sir Edward Beatty said Thursday night the future of Canada as a nation was assured if business men, professional workers, educationists and ordinary solid citizens would provide leadership in developing "a heritage of wealth and opportunity such as no people of our numbers have ever held in history."

The Canadian Pacific Railway president, addressing the annual dinner of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce here, said Canada had provided its early settlers with some sources of wealth which could, for a time, be exploited carelessly, but that on the whole the Dominion was a land where wealth could only be won by "intelligent toil of men who are prepared to labor steadily, and to accumulate slowly."

He said the real problem of Canadian citizens in considering whether their human assets were equal to opportunities facing them was one of leadership.

SERVANTS OF PEOPLE

"I have argued before, and I argue again, that our political leaders are not the masters but the servants of the people," Sir Edward said, "and that under democratic institutions we cannot expect political leaders will go very far ahead of what the voters want."

"If leadership has been lacking in this country it is another sort of leadership which we need is that of outstanding national figures making resounding speeches which sweep the country. It is the leadership of ordinary men and women in their own small spheres."

In summing up, Sir Edward said:

"We have in Canada the resources suited to permit us to create a nation of unusual average wealth, and of a high standard of living. We are, I believe in all honesty a people by racial origin and by experience well adapted to use these opportunities to the utmost."

"We have not succeeded better due to failure of the better elements in our community to give the nation the leadership which it should have. We have frittered away too much of our national wealth in rash attempts to do things which our own common sense should teach us were impossible."

"Facing a future that should be one of unlimited promise, we find ourselves hampered by the burdens of the past. Those burdens cannot be shaken off by ingenious measures of legislation or by economic devices of any kind."

"What is urgent today is that we should cease to increase them, and that we should, in the future, do better than we have in the past."

"Our ability to do this depends on the leadership which our people receive from those who hold more than average influence, and, therefore, responsibility in the life of the community."

PRAIRIE CONDITIONS

Sir Edward told the chamber that, despite present drought conditions on the prairie provinces and marked decrease in production, the central area of the Dominion was well suited to permanent settlement.

He said: "At this moment, following years of low prices, now succeeded by a year of disastrously low production but high prices, there are not a few who attempt to argue that the climate of western Canada is such that those who once forecast it would not produce enough to pay for the axle grease of trains were right."

"It may be an opportune moment for me to express the most profound disagreement with any theory that the prairie provinces are unsuited for lasting settlement."

Sir Edward said the statement he often heard that the Canadian Pacific was responsible for ploughing of land in the "famous Palliser triangle" that should have been left in natural range was untrue.

PEACE PLEDGE

TORONTO (CP)—Officials of the Canadian Corps Association in Ontario sent a message to Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain of Great Britain pledging their support in maintaining world peace and preserving civilization. The message read: "In this trying hour the Canadian Corps Association is conscious of the responsibility resting upon the shoulders of you and your government in the maintenance of world peace and preservation of civilization. We pledge ourselves to stand shoulder to shoulder with all British people in defence of these principles, as the old Canadian Corps did during the Great War."

Effort to End
Rumors of Wars

LONDON (CP)—Lord Beaverbrook is launching a campaign to have done with rumors of wars, as he believes there will be no wars.

By editorials and the efforts of the brilliant cartoonist Strube, the Canadian-born peer, is endeavoring through The London Daily Express and The London Evening Standard to minimize the worrying effect of the insistent din of European continental tom-toms.

Strube in The Express today depicts the front door of the "Empire Theatre," in which is playing "The Dominions' Melody." At the door, standing and calmly grinning, is a major-domo, while the street scene is a turmoil of Hitler, Mussolini, Japanese, Chinese, Turks, Arabs and Jews, all pointing among themselves, accusing and jostling.

A man of the United States is seen dashing in a panic to Wall Street. John Bull, wiping his brow amid the confusion, is pressing his way through to the Empire Theatre, noting the advertisement: "It's cooler in the Empire."

NEW CHARACTER

On Thursday the leader-writer of The Express, Frank Owen, announced Strube had created a new character for his cartoons—"Major Crisis," who is a black-coated, moustachioed villain with swords, guns and bombs. Strube is to present Major Crisis in his real role in the future.

"Major Crisis is the villain of the piece," Owen wrote, "He stalks about the world stage uttering fearful threats of war and death and desolation, and darting looks of hate and rage on the good folk of all nations.

"But as we no longer fear the villain of the movies, who bound the girl in the mountain shack, we no longer fear Major Crisis. Only the city (London financial district) believes in him and gogglers with fright at him."

Fair Time

IT WOULD BE HARD TO NAME ANY other annual event that has become such an accepted feature in the life of any community and one that would be missed more than the annual fair. In Greater Victoria it is the annual Provincial Exhibition which opens at the Willows tomorrow. The fact that every year for 76 years it has been gaining steadily in popularity and importance speaks well for those who have guided its destinies during that time and for the efficient officers at the present time.

There are some who would change the time of the fair in Victoria but when the leaves are already turning dull brown, red and gold, fluttering from swaying limbs like invitations to a preview of autumn it seems the appropriate time for Greater Victoria to hold its last big event of the summer season. It is the time when friends meet and old friends renew old friendships. More times than in any of the other 51 weeks of the year will the expressions be heard "you meet everybody at the fair" or "hello, I haven't seen you since the last fair."

Few things are as remarkable in this age of rural development, radios and fast transportation as the survival, even the steady gain, of the community fair on this continent. Essentially it has not changed since the first one was held 120 years ago or more. It spells demonstration barns lined with pens of grunting, over-weight hogs, moody-eyed bulls, grunting milk cows and proud perchers; long cages of wattle turkeys, strutting roosters, inquisitive hens, noisy ducks and geese.

The midway has not changed. The same barker is just as fascinating and the same prizes have the same usefulness. The roller-coaster, the ferris wheel, the merry-go-round may have a coat of paint or a change of design, but are essentially the same as have been thrilling fair-goers for years.

In Victoria the fair preserves a community spirit greater than any other event. Farmers, merchants, industrialists, civic, provincial and federal governments, gardeners and housewives, school children, artists, photographers, all join hands to make it a success. All are represented in exhibits or competitions in the wide variety of classes. As an incentive to cattle breeders and farmers the fair has a definite value for both the honor of blue ribbons and the better financial returns a producer of winning cattle or farm produce may demand as the result of his successes tend for better production.

In speaking of the fair a word of sympathy should go to the president, Hon. S. F. Tolmie, who this year will be prevented through illness from being present in surroundings where he is so much at home.

Professions In Canada

NEARLY 3 PER CENT OF THE YOUNG people growing up in Canada today become graduates of a university—about 4 per cent of the young men and 1½ per cent of the young women, according to a bulletin prepared by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

The proportion receiving a degree in arts or science is nearly double what it was 15 years ago, but in several of the professions the increases have not kept pace with the increase in population and in a few, the annual number of graduates has definitely fallen. The population is larger per doctor or clergyman now than it was a generation ago, and is nearly double in some provinces what it is in others; the number of veterinarians has actually fallen while livestock has become much more numerous.

Some of the most rapid increases in professional workers have been in the several branches of engineering. Native-born Canadians have met little more than half of the demand for mining, mechanical or electrical engineers, designers, draughtsmen and architects, and only about two-thirds of the demand for civil engineers, surveyors, chemists, assayers and metallurgists.

Much the greatest outside source of supply has been the British Isles, while the United States has supplied larger numbers than the continent of Europe. In spite of greater liability to unemployment than most other salaried professionals, the earnings of engineers and other applied science workers are higher than for the average professional, whose salary in turn is more than double that of a non-professional worker.

The continent of Europe has contributed its greatest proportions to Canadian professionals among clergymen, artists and musicians, and only in those fields has its contribution exceeded that of the United States. Yet by racial origins music and art are two of the most "English" of the professions in Canada, and theology one of the most "French."

Journalism is one of the most "British," in the sense that persons of English, Irish and Scottish origins all occupy a considerably greater share of positions in journalism than in other occupations. Considering all the professions together, persons born in the British Isles occupy more than their share of positions, that is, considerably higher percentages of the total than in other occupations, while the opposite holds for immigrants from Europe.

A Loss to City

VICTORIA WILL BE POORER FOR THE loss by death yesterday of such an honored citizen as Duncan E. Campbell. For half a century he had made his home in Victoria and during that time had played an important part in the growth of the city which he had seen develop from the pioneer stage. As one of the earliest druggists in Victoria he founded a business 41 years ago which brought into his store at some time or other a large proportion of the population of Vancouver Island until he retired in 1921, and it is safe to say that he was respected by all with whom he came in contact. At the ripe old age of 81 when he died, Mr. Campbell was naturally not able to take as active a part in community affairs, but he had, during his 50 years in Victoria, shown keen interest in welfare matters as a member, and at one time president, of the Jubilee Hospital Board and other organizations, and his sound advice was always respected when he was a member of the old Board of Trade. Many good deeds he did in his quiet, unostentatious way will cause his memory to linger in the minds of Victorians many years after his passing.

Human Feeling

ON SATURDAY THERE WILL BE HELD in Victoria a tag day devoted to the interests of the Mill Bay Solarium. There are many tag days and not all of them could be creditably recommended to the citizens. But this of the Mill Bay Solarium is different. It is a place where some of the most awful mistakes of the Creator are taken in hand and made into useful and even beautiful human beings.

At Mill Bay children who have been snatched from the very jaws of death are brought slowly back to life—and it is only slowly that these things can occur. There is no Royal Road to recovery.

If the preservation of human life is a good thing—and we must admit under the existing system that it is—there is no finer outlet for the pennies of the people than the solarium at Mill Bay.

We have seen a child that could not either walk or talk or even recognize its mother and who after a few months at the solarium did all those things and a few others as well. This is worth supporting.

Peace Works For War

AMONG THE GREATEST AND MOST eagerly pursued of peace-time activities may be placed the keen search for and steady production of improved materials and munitions for future wars. And indeed, with the temper of the world as it is today, and in an increasing sense, this seems to be the path of sanity—even if it should end in general insanity.

Dr. Aristide Grosse of the Universal Oil Products at Chicago, has announced the perfecting of a process by which toluol may be extracted from gasoline in sufficient quantities to supply the whole conceivable need of the United States for high explosive in war time. Toluol is the basis of TNT.

It might be said it is rather due to the insatiable thirst of science for knowledge and for the achievement of the strange and beautiful wonders of the laboratory that leads to such discoveries rather than any thought of war and that it is the great need of governments to be prepared that urges them to adopt for making high explosives substances that could as well be turned to the uses of peace. Or, again, it might be said that it is the continuing greed of great corporations with unlimited capacity for production and the need for a market to carry that production that is the basic cause.

There appears to have been plenty of toluol in the world previous to this discovery and there was also a use and a market for all reasonable supplies of gasoline. The available sources are not by any means inexhaustible and if we blow it all away in high explosives to be used in blowing ourselves to glory the time will come when our motors will rust on the roadside, our ships clutter the harbors idly, our planes lie in the dromes like dead grasshoppers and civilization reels back into the mediaeval squalor known so euphemistically as the good old days.

When that time comes will science have achieved other and yet unthought of means of motive power or will she sit hopeless and helpless in a world of wonders she has herself exhausted?

Notes

Real tolerance is tolerating intolerance.

With both the Chinese and Japanese shelling Shanghai, how will they know who won when it is reduced to ruins?

If Japan wins she will lose, for the cost will break her. If China loses she will win, for she will learn what she might do if politically organized.

JOHN BULL'S TOES SENSITIVE
From Richmond Times-Dispatch

Mussolini may have decided to send some more divisions of Italians to Spain, and to throw his influence behind Franco to an even greater extent than he has done already, but he had better watch how he steps on John Bull's toes in the process. Perhaps the Tory government of Britain would prefer to see Franco win, but even so, it isn't going to put up with any impromptu raiding of British shipping by Italian submarines. England's instant dispatch of naval reinforcements into the Mediterranean, following meetings of cabinet ministers were excellent evidence that her government and people are genuinely aroused. The rapprochement between 10 Downing Street and the Chigi Palace would seem to have been delayed indefinitely.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

ENGLISH WAY

ON THIS PARTY that has been on the coast this week attending the annual convention meetings of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce they have brought along three English politicians, and they are interesting exhibits from an ancient craft. They are all under 32 years of age, good-looking, pink-faced youths who have entered the House of Commons over there in the way that a Canadian boy would start out in medicine, engineering or carpentering. They are trained for the job through the universities and will spend their lives in it. Probably they will never be heard of outside their own constituencies, but they will do a good job of governing, according to their lights and the notions of their class.

Also, it will be a full-time job, which they will learn with a long apprenticeship; whereas our politicians are dragged into the game by accident, unprepared and without apprenticeship, and try to keep up their own business while making our laws and almost invariably end by making a hash of one or the other, or both.

And besides, in this country we would never elect these youngsters. They are too young. They aren't tycoons or heifers. They aren't fat and prosperous. Our political machines wouldn't think they had earned the right to sit in "parliament by years of faithful work for the party, by organizing picnics at the Willows and whist drives at Lake Hill. Even if the machines would let such fellows in, they wouldn't go in, because the average boy in Canada is taught from the cradle that it is better to end your life as a piano player in a pool hall than as a back-bencher in the House of Commons; more honest to finish in the Aged Men's Home than in the Canadian Senate. But we shall learn. We are young yet and our politics is still in the rough, bearded pioneer stage. Our political machines still belong to the frontier.

They have another gentleman on this party, another tycoon from England, who is more interesting still. He wears a monocle at all times (I suspect that he doesn't even take it out to sleep or shave) and also wears yellow chambray gloves at his meals. Perhaps he is afraid of acquiring some infection from our Canadian food. Perhaps in such a barbarous country he doesn't want to leave his fingerprints about.

GOOD FOR US

CHINA has just secured a loan from the munition makers to enable her to purchase munitions for her present unpleasantness with Japan which, according to the newest rules, isn't war. The munition makers, however, will not complain against this technically. They will not quibble. They will do their duty whether the war is declared or not. They will do it cheerfully and like it, noble fellows.

It is nice to know, too, that we in Canada will get in on any wars that are going. Minerals from our hills will be fired off in the form of shells in China, if the war will only last a few months. Probably British Columbia minerals have blown many a Spaniard to pieces in the last year. Canada's nickel is contained in all the armaments of the world, a magnificent contribution to civilization.

Nations at war, like China and Japan, need a lot of things. They need more food, since soldiers have to eat regularly whatever happens to the folks at home. And so long as a nation is destroying wealth on a large scale by firing it into the air it is bound to be prosperous—until the bill has to be paid. So if the war in the Orient can only be kept going nicely for a while and enough people can be blown up, we should make a lot of money out of it. It is, indeed, very gratifying.

CAPITAL

MR. COLIN BROOKES, editor of The London Sunday Dispatch, has just told a Toronto audience that Great Britain is a "doomed island" and the capital of the British Empire should be moved to Toronto. Either Mr. Brookes is engaging in a fine flight of local flattery, to please his Toronto audience, or else he is a poor judge of capitals.

Toronto is a great city; greatest English-speaking city in Canada, but Heaven forbid it should be the capital of the Empire; and, anyway, being capital of Ontario, judging by recent developments in provincial politics there, is a full-time job. Toronto is too holy for a capital. Ottawa is quite holy enough and were it not for the innocent and highly over-estimated amusements of Hull, Parliament would have perished of boredom long ago. Toronto is much holier than that. Why, in Toronto you don't cut your grass or weed your rock garden on Sunday. Toronto wouldn't understand it, would fondly imagine that this was irreverent. The good old British statesmen could never stand it. No. If the capital is to be moved from London, let it come to Victoria. We have everything here for the purpose, including the proper spirit and adequate monuments, recently erected. But Vancouver will probably get it, as it always does, and with no monuments.

DEMOCRACY OUTLOOK

Main Johnson in Toronto Star

Democracy under the steady and more or less revival-mood of present-year Britain and with the moral support of the United States does not appear in as bleak a "defeatist" light as it did a couple of years ago. There is, however, a popular crusade, in Germany and Italy, idealizing their political systems which, for all their tragic errors, do appeal to the co-operative state-minded youth who either do not know democracy at all or who misinterpret it as necessarily and continuously individualistic and selfish. Democracy too often does deserve this opprobrium but not always and not in its most successful forms. England is a democracy modified and checked by aristocratic houses and traditions which, despite their anachronistic exclusiveness, have a sense of responsibility and public service.

Portugal Forsakes England to Snuggle Up to Nazis

London Correspondence LONDON.

IF IT were not for the serious implications in the background, it would be merely funny to see Dictator Salazar of Portugal making snooty faces at President Benes of Czechoslovakia and breaking off diplomatic relations, because a Czech armaments firm did not send machine guns to Portugal as promised.

Breaking off diplomatic relations is often the prelude to war. But Europe's newspaper writers only see the comic side of this situation. Czechoslovakia is landlocked and could not be attacked by Portugal's navy—such as it is. Czechoslovakia has no navy and so could not attack Portugal's ports. Most of the continent of Europe separates the two countries. The relations between Czechs and Portuguese, even in the best of times, were very slight. Hence the breezy quip of the columnist of The London Morning Post:

"Intercourse between Portugal and Czechoslovakia used to be one of the pleasantest European relationships. Now no longer will the fountains of Prague spout fine old crusted port or the gutters of Lisbon run with Pilsener beer. No longer shall we be able to sit twirling our glasses of rich tawny in the Vaclavské Namesti or lap down a budojovick pivo at Torres Vedras. No longer shall we wolf Bohemian pork and dumplings on the banks of the Guadiana or sing songs of old Oporto as we sail up the Vltava."

FLOCKING TOGETHER

But in more responsible quarters, this action of Portugal is taken with due seriousness. There are now alignments in Europe which cause new apprehensions. For nearly 600 years England has been Portugal's traditional ally. England was her best customer for port. England cast no covetous eyes at Portuguese colonies in Africa. England, perhaps, would not allow anybody else to grab them from little Portugal.

But the past few years have brought changes. A Fascist Italy has been followed by a Nazi Germany. Dictator-ruled countries have a tendency to draw together. They have shown their solidarity in the Spanish civil war. A Franco victory would mean another dictator-ruled land. As much as she dares, Portugal has thus drawn away from her ancient friend, England. Portugal, even more than Italy and Germany, balked at all the various Anglo-French attempts to secure real non-intervention in the Spanish conflict.

BLAMING THE SOVIETS

When Italy and Germany recently pulled some of the props from under the non-intervention committee, the British observers were withdrawn from the Portuguese frontier. This means that arms and supplies are probably once more slipping across from Portugal to Franco's forces. It was, perhaps, because of this suspicion that the Czech government prevented Czech arms from going to Portugal. Portugal professes to believe that Czechoslovakia took its action under pressure from Russia.

QUESTION OF COLONIES

The German influence in Portugal is, if anything, greater than the Italian. The Nazi overlook no bet. Thus recently there was held in Lisbon a Portuguese colonial congress. Ninety-four addresses were made, 72 by Portuguese and 22 by foreigners. The latter were mostly Germans.

There were no Americans, Englishmen or Frenchmen. This very interest of the Germans in Portuguese colonies gives a certain slant as to why Salazar is nestling up to Hitler. Nazi Germany wants colonies. She says she needs them and must have them. Primarily the bosses have their eyes on the rich colonies in Africa which England took from Germany under the Treaty of Versailles. But the Portuguese evidently feared that if Hitler finally decides he can not get back those lands, he might look for compensations elsewhere, Portuguese Africa for instance.

In the western part of that continent, there is Angola with a vast extent of 484,000 square miles and a coastline 1,000 miles long. It lies south of what was once German Southwest Africa. Then in the eastern part of the continent, there is the colony of Mozambique with 426,712 square miles, and likewise with a coastline of over 1,000 miles. It lies south of what was once German East Africa.

If anything, these Portuguese possessions are richer than the ones Germany lost. Their riches have never been properly worked. Dictator Salazar has become doubtful whether John Bull would risk the life of a single Tommy to protect Portuguese colonies. Hence the next best thing is to play along with Germany in the hope that it will not take from its little friend its greatest treasure.

Medical Mind Too Often Impermeable To New Ideas

From Toronto Telegram

DECLARING that he was not convinced that Dr. E. J. Hett had discovered anything of value for the treatment of cancer, Mr. Justice Middleton added that, in any event, this was a matter for the medical profession. As the law stands, the medical profession may have the final word, and may thus be in a position to prevent innovations along what are regarded as unorthodox lines. Too many instances of the blindness of the medical profession are recorded to warrant that power being left in its hands.

The story of the difficulty with which Lord Lister overcame medical prejudice is illuminating. In 1865 he had laid the foundation of a practice which afterwards led to his recognition as the father of the antiseptic system, yet in 1874 a lecturer at Edinburgh told his students to "have nothing to do with Lister; he is hopelessly unorthodox."

Before Lister's time, hospitals were filled with infection; wounds always suppurated, and death frequently followed. Lister had studied the physical changes which occurred in wounds, when he came across an account of Pasteur's work in which putrefaction was attributed to microbes from the air. He at once suspected that these microbes might be responsible for the suppurating, and began the application of carbolic acid to destroy them before they could attack the tissues. A development of this plan not only reduced mortality but made it possible to conduct, with safety, operations which would otherwise have been next to hopeless.

It is difficult to believe that the medical profession ever scouted the principles of antiseptics. Yet even the universities took a fling at Lister's methods. In 1869, Professor Bennett of Edinburgh declared that the dawning belief in the existence of germs was pitiable. And Professor Hingston of Montreal had shortly before this asserted that the use of carbolic acid was now being discontinued in places where it was formerly in vogue. While in Great Britain he had seen it poured into and over the surfaces of amputations and other wounds, in the form of a fluid ointment or combined with oil, in a way which recalled to his mind the older and reprehensible system of dressing with some foreign body the whole raw surfaces of recent wounds—a practice that was followed two or three centuries ago, and which he fondly hoped was forever banished from scientific surgery. At the Medical Association meeting of 1869, Mr. Nunneley, chosen to give the address on surgery, made a direct attack on Lister, whom he accused of stupidity. "We may," he declared, "probably with safety deny the existence of germs in the number and universality maintained by Pasteur and Lister. The whole theory of antiseptics is not only absurd, it is a positive injury." He added, "The theory and reasoning by which the antiseptic treatment of wounds is supported appear to overlook facts open to all the world, to disregard observations familiar to every person through all ages from the earliest period to the present day."

The man who finds a means to check cancer will have done a work comparable to Lister's. Whether Dr. Hett has achieved this cannot be certainly said, though there is evidence supported by medical testimony to suggest that he is on the path. The medical profession as represented by the Medical Council has erected against his further progress the wall of prejudice that was raised against Lister, that was raised against Semmelweis, that was raised against Sir James Simpson, that was raised against Jenner and that was raised against Harvey. It can only be said, whatever the merits of Dr. Hett's work, he is in good company.

CANADA YEAR BOOK

The 1937 edition of the Canada Year Book is now ready for distribution by the King's Printer, Ottawa. This comprehensive annual survey of the affairs of Canada is compiled by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics and is published by authorization of Hon. W. D. Euler, Minister of Trade and Commerce.

More than 1,100 pages present a wide range of material and illustrate Canada's progress between the first Dominion census of 1871 and the Coronation of King George VI.

Many sections have been entirely rewritten for the current volume. Finance is dealt with in special articles, of outstanding interest being a review of the relationship between the Bank of Canada and the Canadian financial system. This has been specially written to give the public a clear understanding of the functions of the bank. There is also a summary of the Dominion Government tax system, with information as to subsidies and loans made to the provinces.

The results of the 1936 quinquennial census are included and the chapter dealing with Transportation and Communications has been recast to give a clearer picture of the services involved.

The edition is limited and the price of $1.50 is stated to be the actual cost of preparation. School teachers, ministers and bona fide students may secure paper-bound copies at a nominal charge of 50 cents.

A NATION IN CHAINS

(From the Canadian Unionist)
With the collection of all housekeys throughout Germany by the Gestapo (Secret State Police) in order to facilitate police control over all citizens, the Nazi spy system has become complete. No longer does the German family possess a home of its own. Each street block is controlled by a so-called block supervisor, who is required to immediately report all goings-on to the police. Separate records for each household are kept and constantly checked. In addition the block supervisor must give immediate notice to the police as to the arrival and departure of all persons. Police control over the German people has reached such a state that the Nazi agents, as the labor daily newspaper, "Angriff," strikingly remarks, are "at home in every home."

ARTS SOCIETY OPENS SEASON

Rev. Robert Connell Installed As President at First Fall Meeting

Rev. Robert Connell was installed as the new president of the Island Arts and Crafts Society when it opened its new season yesterday evening, and C. F. Barker, whom Mr. Connell succeeded, was tendered a hearty vote of thanks.

G. B. Kitter, in moving the resolution of appreciation, referred particularly to Mr. Barker's splendid work in stimulating interest in art among the boys and girls of Victoria, who had been privileged to attend the free Saturday classes at the club-rooms.

The love of art could not be taught, but it could be aroused, Mr. Connell said in taking office. An organization such as the Island Arts and Crafts Society could encourage the right environment and foster art in the home.

Miss Audrey Alexandra Brown, the Nanaimo poetess, entertained the society with an informal talk on the Indians of her home district, culling most of her material from articles written by her father in the form of anecdotes and personal observations dating from the time of his boyhood.

Miss Brown spoke of the rapidly diminishing number of Indians, particularly referring to the Euclatavs, once a very powerful tribe.

The poetess recited two of her early poems, "The Halcyon" and "Stray Bird." Mrs. L. Batchelor contributed to the evening's programme by singing. Miss Grace Tuckey convoked the programme, and Mrs. S. M. Hobbs had charge of refreshments.

At the executive meeting which followed, it was decided to hold the society's annual exhibition in October, at a time and place to be announced later.

The University of Athens, which celebrated its 100th anniversary this year, started with 14 students and now enrolls almost 10,000.

Bar Association Wants Practising Lawyer as New Court Registrar

Coupled with a resolution of regret at the forthcoming retirement of B. H. Tyrwhitt Drake as court registrar here and felicitations to him, the Victoria Bar Association, at luncheon yesterday, urged that his successor be chosen from the ranks of the legal profession in this city.

The resolution will be forwarded to the Attorney-General. Robert D. Harvey submitted the formal motion after the subject was introduced by A. D. Crease. He pointed out that many matters came before the registrar calling for knowledge of one who had actual practice in the profession.

Felicitations to Mr. Drake were sponsored by James Stuart Yates, one of the oldest members of the bar here, who expressed the hope he would have a peaceful retirement.

The bar association yesterday also honored Harry J. Davis who acted as chairman of the committee in charge of the convention here in July. He was presented with a wrist watch as an appreciation. Judge H. H. Shandley made the presentation on the invitation of A. D. Crease, the treasurer.

Mr. Davis, in his reply, suggested that greater attention could be paid to the social side of the profession and that steps be taken to present lawyers to the public in their true position rather than the idea that they were "grasping citizens." A series of meetings throughout the year for lawyers in Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster might be arranged, he said.

Carew Martin and W. H. M. Haldane, were also warmly thanked by Mr. Crease for their part in the convention.

Arthur Courtney reported on a meeting of the Washington Bar Association at Bellingham last month which he attended for the British Columbia bar. He said he found a tendency to get more in line with British law practices there. Mr. Crease mentioned that he had been unable to accept an invitation to address the meeting.

A report on the Canadian Bar Association meeting at Winnipeg was given by J. G. Rutan, who told of efforts, backed by leading members of the bench and bar, to encourage younger members. This junior practitioners' work would be continued, he said.

Senator J. W. deB. Farris, K.C., and R. L. Maitland, K.C., were congratulated on their election to high offices in the Canadian Bar Association.

A letter of condolence was authorized to be sent to the widow of a late member of the bar, George Davidson, who died recently.

Asserts Models Breed Atheism

L. J. Eekman Rebukes Vancouver For Display of Prehistoric Man

The charge that Vancouver City Council, by allowing the construction and display in the Vancouver museum of five models of man's progression, is breeding atheism among children is leveled by L. J. Eekman of Victoria, in a letter forwarded to the Vancouver mayor this week.

The display, which purports to show the development of the human race, helps, he says, "to propagate the ungodly evolution theory of a pseudo-science."

In this way, he adds, the Vancouver council is "breeding atheism, and atheism is the forerunner of lawlessness and of godless radicalism that will eventually completely destroy our civilization."

Mr. Eekman declares that Vancouver, in accepting the models, is doing what all other cities on the Pacific Coast have refused. "You know probably as well as anybody else," he continues, "that, for instance, the 'Java ap-man' is constructed out of finds consisting of the upper part of a cranium, two teeth and a left thigh bone; the thigh bone was not found with the cranium but sixty feet away, and not in the same year. The 'Piltdown man' is constructed out of four skull fragments, a nasal bone, a tooth and a fragment of a jaw, which jaw-bone, some scientists contend, belongs to another creature. The 'Neanderthal man' is constructed of a skull cap, two femora, two humeri and an ulna, right radius, left half of a pelvis, a fragment of a scapula and remnants of five ribs.

"One could just as readily construct, given a big toenail and a pair of whiskers, a 'prehistoric mastodon.' Truly it requires an audacious mind and a fertile and perverted imagination to construct, with a few scattered bones, models meant to prove the Bible to be untrue and the millions of past and present believers in it deceived fools."

Letters To The Editor

DISAGREES WITH CAPT. CAZALET

To the Editor:—Capt. Victor A. Cazale from London asserts that Franco's propaganda "is very bad." It is too bad to be true.

Capt. Cazale also asserts that "the people don't know anything about Franco and what his aims are." Perhaps he will enlighten us regarding the latter point? Will he, for instance, explain what Franco's aim was in bombing Guernica and its people out of existence and in slaughtering women and children in Madrid?

Incidentally, he might explain why, in view of these events, he is still "very much pro-Franco."

The gallant captain's propaganda is no improvement on that of his hero. MISSOURIAN.

TREACHEROUS PROPAGANDA

To the Editor:—There has come into my possession a leaflet recently distributed in Victoria and entitled "Where Stands Fascism." After carefully reading it I came to the conclusion it is a most treacherous and deceitful piece of propaganda.

It is full of criticism of all old political parties, and especially of the C.C.F. and of Communist parties. It advocates the corporate state whose objects are increased efficiency, shorter hours of labor and a higher standard of living for the workers, with adequate pensions for the aged, sick and injured; yet at the same time maintaining the private ownership of the means of production.

But in these Fascist lands we find poverty, and promises of better times are as much the order of the day as in capitalist democracies. Italy and Germany are as much the paradise of the moneyed men, the exploiters of human labor, as England or America, and while they are very critical of Russia, we find all three countries in the name of liberty, destroy all opposition.

The Fascist methods of propaganda and gaining power is simple, but its effectiveness depends entirely on the level of political knowledge and experience of the workers. Fascism copies most of the traditional methods of the reformist parties, exploits every phase of working class and small capitalist discontent, denouncing Jews, Freemasons, trade unions, etc.

Having tried capitalism under democracy, with all its promises of reforms, we find in these Fascist countries the workers were ripe for a new kind of demagogue—one preaching dictatorship, with renegade labor reformists hastening to adjust themselves to the new fashion.

The most seductive claim of the Fascist is that he is Socialist, but we have only the Reformist to thank for this dishonest practice. In Canada, as well as European countries, Socialism is not practicable in any one country—it must be international.

The lesson to be learned is that, so long as power is placed in the hands of the capitalist parties at election times, so long will the workers be at the mercy of those who hold that power, whether they use it violently or otherwise.

SLY FASCIST PROPAGANDA

To the Editor:—The fact that a number of our citizens and in all probability a large number of people throughout this country are receiving and have received German Nazi propaganda pamphlets of the most subtle and insidious type, should be given the publicity it demands.

The titles of the pamphlets brought to my attention are, I think, worthy of note:

"The Destruction of Domestic Life Through Bolshevism"

"Bolshevism in Theory and Practice"

"Bolshevik Atrocities in Spain"

"World Enemy No. 1—Bolshevism"

"Bolshevism and the Farm Class"

"Who Are the Rulers of Russia?"

"What Is Germany Going to Do?"

These pamphlets, as their titles suggest, have as their principal motive the condemnation of Russia and its system, but at the same time endeavor by every means to show the great benefits that Nazism is giving the German people.

To analyze these pamphlets would take up too much of your space. Their subtle and insidious publicity and the voice of our people raised in the strongest protest against such propaganda being permitted to reach us through the mails. I desire to stress this point, due to the fact that all Russian propaganda literature has been barred through our mails for some years. In fact, even literature which spoke of the progress made in the U.S.S.R. in alleviating the economic hazards of the Russian working man.

A significant fact regarding this Nazi literature seems to be the receipt of it by those who have in the past contributed to your columns, condemning our local youth and other organizations and individuals whose sole desire was to educate the unsuspecting public to the invisible good points of either of these forms of government.

J. McDERMOTT.

522 Simcoe Street.

OUR "DRUNKEN" YOUTH?

To the Editor:—F. G. Scott, (the soldiers' friend), addressing the Canadian National Exhibition Directors' Luncheon, and speaking to Canadian War Veterans in particular, said: "The increasing spread of drunkenness in Canada, especially among young girls, is sapping the life of our young country."

The archdeacon lived and suffered with our men in their trenches: I was not allowed that privilege. But I do live with and know men and women of British Columbia, and I will not stand to let it go uncontradicted—even in "Holy Toronto," that the youth of my native country, Canada, are a drunken and dissolute crew of wasters. For that is not true. Everyone knows that our boys and girls, native born or Western European or Eastern Asiatic stock—as they come out from high schools, colleges and universities, as we meet them, in our air force, navy, army, and as we come up against them in civil life—while there are, as always, reprobates among them, are a decent, sober, well-trained body of young people of whom their parents and their native land may well be proud. I am not speaking of babes, but of men and women who, if now and again they indulge in a glass of beer or a tot of stronger vintage, are on the whole reasonably temperate; and who, whether in matters of drinking, of social purity, or in other personally dangerous contacts of their daily life, show good self-restraint, and much higher ambitions than the mere satisfaction of physical appetite for luxuries from ethically forbidden trees.

I am not out to deny the evils that always follow on excessive drinking. As ever "Wine is a mocker; strong drink is raging,"—not in right use, but when abused. Nor do I praise our liquor sales laws: they are just better than nothing. Archdeacon Scott has never posed as a prohibitionist, or even a total abstainer. He believes in a temperate use of God's good gifts to men—including a glass of good beer or "Wine that make glad man's heart," and in thanking God for his goodness in the use of that good wine in his Holy Communion—"Furnished with mystic wine, and everlasting bread." (John Wesley). Paul, our great philosophic interpreter of Truth—and of Truth's daughter, Liberty—(Gal. 5:16) puts drunkenness in the pillory with the cardinal sins, and classes in his following list of virtues, not abstinence, but temperance, the moderate and proper use of food and drink, "against which there is no law." Your prohibitionists, your total abstinence came to birth much later, and much joy they brought this weary world!

"We must be free or die!" Look to the east, young Canada: for that is where we read the riddle of the sunrise. We of British Columbia look to the Far East; and, over the great Pacific, the Far East looks to us. Have we no kindly word toward the setting sun? No pacific answer to their pressing call, who need not only our missionaries there, but our present help this side the water? An answer must be made. Is it peace? Or is it war?

Temperance and freedom are both personal affairs. John Oxenham leaves that kind of problem to the individual decision of each one of us—with no middle place for "drifting on the misty flats" of doubt:

"But to ever man there openeth A highway—and a low: And every man decideth The way his soul shall go."

"Hæc dicere ego maxime (sed etiam humiliter) audeo"—and therefore a copy of this goes to the Venerable Archdeacon, who will doubtless correct any overstatement of his views.

LAZY MEN IN ALBERTA

To the Editor:—Your correspondent, Mr. John Stewart, is not informed on the state of affairs in Alberta. Is he aware that Mr. Aberhart is the most unscrupulous man in Canada today? He has made promises which he knows it is absolutely impossible to carry out, and although his government has been in office with a large majority, he has not done a single thing to alleviate the distress. Instead of lowering taxes as he promised, he has increased them and added to the province's debt every year. By his dishonest treatment in lowering the interest on Alberta bonds and his stupid bank laws, he has driven all money out of Alberta. He could not borrow a cent from anyone, as none can trust him.

Does Mr. Stewart know that the resources of Alberta are not worth a cent until they have been worked, and the best brains in Canada and United States, with unlimited funds, who have been working for years on the tar sands, have not been able to put it on the market yet? Does he know that the idle men we have in Alberta don't want work and won't work if you find it for them, because they get more money from relief than they could earn by working, and the statement that they are hungry is far from correct, as they are better off on relief than many men who are doing honest work? Our real trouble in Alberta is that all the idle men from all Canada have come to Alberta because they were promised $25 a month, and we shall never recover until these men are sent back to the places they came from and our own idle men are forced to work. OLD NICK IN NICKEL

To the Editor:—In your issue of September 4, Loose Ends said something like this: "If Canada refused to supply nickel to war-mongers, the world would be plunged into peace! But Canada won't—it involves too much money."

So what? The only solution that I can think of under the present cheery circumstances is for Canada to immediately adopt conscription: Age limit, 45 to 75. Physical standard, any man who can play golf, fish, hunt or drive a car. The army has been mechanized and demoralized, so there is now no necessity for prolonged physical endurance or privation (and vast improvement in "props" has rendered the possibility of long and wearisome active service negligible!) If a man can drive a car he can operate a lorry or a tank. If he can swing a golf club he can manipulate a lever to drop bombs. If he can play a salmon he can pull a lanyard. If he can stalk and slay a deer he should be a wow at hunting humans! And the portlier his person the more protection to the fellow following!

Of course, this age limit will catch a lot of us who were in the "War to End War," but since we have failed to use the same enthusiasm in curbing capitalism as we did in suppressing Prussian militarism—we'll just have to take it. However, there will be the satisfaction that the youth who had nothing to do with the plotting and planning of the past 20 years of filth and juggling will have a clear field for founding a saner civilization.

The above idea seems to me to be all the more logical when one remembers how the mature judgment of bald-heads is so successfully played up in politics. If the "big shots" let the nickel go, they can't expect any quarter!

BURGLARS IN THE VATICAN

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The papal majordomo, Archbishop Mella di Sant'ella, reported Thursday burglars had rifled his apartment, near Pope Pius's suite, while the archbishop was away on holiday.

The archbishop is that member of the papal staff who approves the applications of thousands of pilgrims who come each year to see the Holy Father.

U.S. Wheat Now At Montreal

MONTREAL (CP)—More than 900,000 bushels of United States wheat are in Montreal elevators, a survey Thursday revealed.

Officials, who refused to have their names disclosed, admitted wheat was coming to Montreal principally from Chicago and Buffalo, and said they believed the influx was caused by cheaper rates on Canadian vessels.

In Connecticut, motorists over 30 years old with good driving records, can apply for license plates bearing their initials, or the first three letters of their names, instead of the usual numerals—so long as the same combination of letters has not been granted another person.

Bureau of Statistics Summarizes Federal, Provincial and Municipal Obligations

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadians owe at least $7,039,091,538 through operations of the various taxing authorities throughout the Dominion. The figure is, in all likelihood considerably larger, for a Dominion Bureau of Statistics report issued Thursday, covering Dominion, provincial and municipal debts, gave the Dominion and provincial amounts up to the end of 1936, and those of the municipalities up to the end of 1935 only.

With the 1935 figure for municipalities added to the 1936 totals for the Dominion and provincial governments, the aggregate net direct debt amounted to $5,535,744,794, and the guaranteed indirect debt of the Dominion and provinces totaled $1,503,346,744.

Active assets of the Dominion had a value of $425,843,510, and non-active assets, $3,006,100,517.

The Dominion Government's liabilities totaled $3,431,944,127.

The report says:

DIRECT LIABILITIES

The net direct debt of the Dominion Government alone was $3,006,100,517 and the net direct liabilities of provincial governments, sinking funds, available capital, current and cross-cut accounts being deducted was $1,084,107,202. The direct liability of all Canadian municipalities in 1935, less sinking funds and investments, was $1,445,537,075, making the total net direct debt $5,535,744,794.

The guaranteed, or indirect debt of the Dominion Government on March 31, 1936, was $1,278,797,542, which included principal and interest guaranteed on railway and other securities to the value of $778,343,114, interest only guaranteed on railways securities $216,207,142 and other guarantees totaling $284,247,286. These included bank advances $89,523,708, British Columbia and Manitoba treasury bills $6,520,661 and deposits of chartered banks in a Bank of Canada $188,202,917. There also was an unsecured amount guaranteed for the Winnipeg Grain and Produce Clearing Association.

The guaranteed debt of the provincial governments for the fiscal year 1936 amounted to $224,549,202, making the total guaranteed or indirect debt $1,503,346,744.

New Oil Lease Rules in Alberta

EDMONTON (CP) — Designed to eliminate speculation in the oil and petroleum industry in Alberta, an order-in-council providing new regulations for taking out leases has been passed. It was announced here Thursday by officials of the provincial department of lands and mines.

New regulations provide that a minimum of 10,000 and a maximum of 50,000 acres will be available to each applicant, who must pay five cents an acre to prospect. Within 45 days the applicant must carry out geological experiments and submit a preliminary report to the government. Another 45 days is allowed for completion of the survey.

If the applicant can show the time has not been sufficient, he may be granted another three months, at the end of which time all documentary evidence must be filed with the government.

RUNCIMAN ESTATE

LONDON (CP) — Baron Runciman, shipowner who died recently, left an estate of £2,388,453 (about $11,822,842) "as far as can be ascertained," it is stated. Estate duties will amount to £1,176,130 (about $5,821,844). Lord Runciman was the father of Viscount Runciman, former President of the Board of Trade, who retired from the cabinet on his elevation to the peerage.

PARTITION OPPOSED

BLOUDAN, Syria (AP) — The Pan-Arab Conference appealed Thursday to the French government, King Ghazi of Iraq and King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia for support against the proposed partition of the Holy Land. The conference also sent a message to the League of Nations protesting against the partition scheme.

Bridge to Aid Sailors' Home

The Connaught Seamen's Institute at its monthly meeting yesterday arranged to hold its annual bridge tea at the Empress Hotel early in November, with Mrs. R. W. McMurray as general convener. Mrs. Vernon Thomson presided at the gathering. The members stood in silent sympathy for the families of the late Mrs. Jardine and Mrs. James Dunsinuir. During the month of July the institute was visited by 110 sailors and 37 cadets, and 30 ships were visited, while in August 26 ships were visited and 93 sailors and 24 cadets signed the register. Twenty-five pairs of socks and 14 sweaters were reported on hand and a gift of scarfs, mitts and a helmet given the institute by an anonymous donor.

Gifts of Milk Are Appreciated

The first meeting of the fall season of the Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter L.O.D.E. was held on Tuesday evening at the home of the regent, Mrs. J. W. Hudson. A letter from Dr. Murray Anderson was read, in which he told of the great help the milk had been to the undernourished school children. A parent also wrote in to tell of the benefit the half-pint of milk daily had been to her child.

Mrs. F. Beckett gave an interesting report on the educational work of the order and that books had been sent to the Four-mile School. She also reported on the Isolated Families Fund. The annual tag day of the chapter will be held on September 25, and anyone willing to assist please phone Mrs. Hudson, E.6010. Plans were made for a rummage sale on October 16, and a novelty tea in November. Members who plan to attend the provincial semi-annual meeting at Duncan on October 7 and 8, are asked to inform the secretary, Miss Evelyn Ross.

The chapter's cookery book will be on sale at the exhibition. Two new members were welcomed: Mrs. G. H. Price and Mrs. H. H. Davies, past regent of Messines Ridge Chapter of Revelstoke.

Local Council Meets Monday

The Local Council of Women will hold its first meeting of the season Monday afternoon at 2.30, at the Y.W.C.A., when Miss Margaret Clay will give a resume of the Pan-Pacific conference, held recently in Vancouver.

Miss Clay attended all sessions of the conference, and her account of the meetings will be of great interest to Local Council.

ST. MARY'S A.Y.P.A.
The first meeting of the fall season of St. Mary's A.Y.P.A. was held Wednesday at the church hall, with a large attendance, including many new members. Lucille McKay and Dudley Keeler were chosen as delegates to the Local Council A.Y.P.A. convention to be held in Vancouver. On Sunday, September 12, after the church service, the installation ceremony of new officers will take place. Owing to fair week, the next meeting is postponed until Wednesday, September 22, when there will be a social for members and friends.

He wanted to caress her cheeks

Her complexion fascinated him. Scarcely met, yet already he was thrilled. Dozens of girls were pretty. But only this one lured him with the exquisite velvet of her skin. Yet this new beauty is for all. PRINCESS PAT face powder gives it... by reason of its exclusive almond base. Such velvety, clinging, adorable beauty you never knew from starch base powders.

Victorians Marry In Ottawa

Miss Kathleen Giles
Bride Of Major
D. A. McNaughton

A wedding of interest to residents of Victoria took place at 1.30 p.m. September 8, at the Southminster United Church, Ottawa, when the Rev. R. McGillivray united in marriage Kathleen Emily, daughter of the late Mr. George Giles of Ottawa and Mrs. N. Gettle of Spokane, B.C., and David Albert McNaughton, only son of Mr. D. C. McNaughton and the late Mrs. McNaughton of Victoria, B.C.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. H. M. Giles of Ottawa and attended by her cousin, Miss Phyllis Giles. Mr. Leonard Giles officiated as best man.

The bride looked charming in a full length gown of white satin with jacket and long kid gloves to match. She wore a white satin turban trimmed with white velvet and carried a bridal bouquet of pink roses and lily-of-the-valley.

Her bridesmaid, Miss Phyllis Giles, wore a smart white frock trimmed with pale green and carried a bouquet of Talisman roses. Following the ceremony a private reception and luncheon was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. H. M. Giles, where the newly-married couple were assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. Giles, who wore a lovely gown of pink crepe with black accessories.

The home was tastefully decorated for the occasion and the table looked charming with its appropriate floral decorations and the multi-tiered wedding cake.

Prior to their departure for Montreal the bride changed to a smart black two-piece tailored suit with turban to match and wore a silver fox fur, the gift of the bridegroom.

After an extensive tour covering New York and many of the principal eastern cities, Major and Mrs. McNaughton will take to the Pacific Coast and will take up their residence about September 23 at James Island, B.C., where Major McNaughton is assistant works manager for the Canadian Industries Limited. The bridegroom is Major-paymaster of the 5th (B.C.) Coast Brigade, R.C.A.

Weddings

SMITH-HUTCHINS

The marriage took place on Saturday, September 4, Rev. A. de B. Owen officiating, of Verna, youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. P. Hutchins and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bigelow, 1012 Richardson Street, and Mr. Douglas Smith, youngest son of the late Mr. W. J. Smith and Mrs. Smith, 1215 North Park Street. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Frank Bigelow, and wore a tailored suit of tawny yellow and brown tweed, with brown accessories and a corsage bouquet of carnations.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. B. Erb, who wore a knitted suit of marine blue wool with matching accessories and a bouquet of carnations. Mr. Alwyn McPhee was best man. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's grandparents. A two-tier wedding cake centred the prettily-arranged supper table. Among the many beautiful gifts were a case of flat silver from the groom's fellow-employees of the Drysdale Sash and Door Co. Ltd., and a dinner set from the bride's former employers. Mr. and Mrs. Smith have taken up residence at 1612 Haultain Street.

Clothes Budget Has "Bloomers"

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—John T. Cooper, attorney for the Oklahoma industrial welfare commission which regulates wages and hours for state workers, admitted he may have to revise his minimum clothing budget for the working girl. He set the figure at $221 a year. "I've just been informed," said he, coloring slightly, "that bloomers are old-fashioned and women don't wear them any more." He had set aside as indispensable $4 a year for bloomers. There are 21 species of the tsetse fly in Africa.

A September Bride-To-Be

Miss Maggie Eveleigh Black, only daughter of the late Mr. D. R. Black and Mrs. Black, 875 Craigflower Road, whose marriage to Mr. George Wakefield Bonavia, only son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Bonavia, 1531 Vining Street, will take place shortly.

Society

Mrs. J. L. Mosher of Victoria presided at the bride's table at the reception which followed the wedding of her niece, Miss Audrey Roberts, to Mr. George Armstrong in Vancouver Wednesday evening. The bride is the daughter of Capt. G. W. Roberts and the late Mrs. Roberts of Vancouver.

Mrs. Peter McNaughton, Gordon Head, will leave on Wednesday next for Vancouver, where she will visit friends for a time before leaving on an extended trip which will take her first to Trail, B.C., then down to California to visit her son and other relatives in Los Angeles and ultimately to Havana, Cuba, to visit her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Chisholm.

Miss Ella Whyte was guest of honor at a shower given by Miss Marquette Easton and Miss Verna Simpson at the home of Mrs. W. J. Simpson, Rithet Street. The rooms were decorated with pink and white streamers and flowers. The bride-elect entered the room while the bridal chorus was played by Miss Frances Wallace. The many useful gifts were presented to her in a decorated box. Refreshments were served by the hostess. Those present were Mrs. Whyte, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Vivian, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. McKinnon, Mrs. Simpson, the Misses Frances Wallace, Hilda McGillivray, Lillian McDonald, Lil Olsen, Mary Mattson, Ella Whyte, Margaret Easton and Verna Simpson.

Miss Ethel Rhodes, a September bride-elect, was the guest of honor recently, at a miscellaneous shower, given by her fellow-workers, at the home of Miss Helen McKim. The numerous and lovely gifts were concealed in a large decorated box. Later in the evening, a buffet supper was served. The invited guests were: Mrs. E. Rhodes, Mrs. Lindley, Mrs. Dunnett, Mrs. M. Willson, Mrs. J. Willson, Mrs. J. Chester, Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Chambers, Mrs. Timms, Mrs. Millar, Mrs. Peebles, Mrs. Colman, Mrs. Crowther, Mrs. J. Thorner, Mrs. A. Thorner, Mrs. C. Clarke, Mrs. Starmer, Mrs. Hunslestein, Mrs. Burns, Mrs. Hogan, Mrs. Pearson, Mrs. McKim, and Misses Ethel Rhodes, Annie Rhodes, Evelyn Rhodes, Joan Lambrock, Agnes McMullin, Violet Hearn, Mary Hancock, Phyllis Roberts, Isabel and Nettie Millar, Olive Colman, Dolly Crowther, Ruth Hogan, Florence MacLeod, Mary Scott, Flora Spurrier, Miss Bland, Miss Jones, Miss Beale and Margaret and Helen McKim.

Mrs. M. B. Clawson and Mrs. A. Swan were joint hostesses at a miscellaneous shower held at the home of Mrs. Clawson, Arnot Avenue Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Maggie Black, who is to be married shortly. Chrysanthemums and asters in autumn shades were prettily arranged in the reception rooms. As the bride-to-be entered the living-room, little Beverly Mitchell handed her a corsage bouquet of Talisman roses and also guided the "sailing ship" containing the many shower gifts. Games were played during the evening, following which the hostesses served a buffet supper from a table prettily appointed with a mirror in the centre of the damask cloth,

Gordon Head Club
Honors Mrs.
Peter McNaughton

A large gathering of members of the Gordon Head Current Events Club attended the first meeting of the season, held at the Gordon Head Hall on Wednesday, in order to join in honoring Mrs. Peter McNaughton, its president during the last year, who is leaving the district for a prolonged period. The members seized the occasion to present Mrs. McNaughton with a traveling bag as a mark of their esteem. Mrs. Nellie McClung presented the gift on behalf of the members of the club. She referred to Mrs. McNaughton's more than 20 years' of service to the community and expressed to Mrs. McNaughton the regret which everyone felt at her impending departure and assured her of the affectionate remembrance of the members.

In thanking the club for the gift, Mrs. McNaughton made a moving appeal to all members to be ever ready to help the young people of the district. She also promised that when, during her travels, she saw any ideas that would be useful to the club or community she would pass them on.

A very enjoyable programme of songs was given by: Mrs. Bishop and Miss Barbara Dawson, Mrs. E. G. Paddon acting as accompanist.

Mrs. McNaughton, acting as chairman, at the business meeting welcomed McClung, who gave one of her interesting resumes of current events. Mrs. McClung gave an interesting account of Russia's progressive work in reclaiming land in the polar regions, where an area two-thirds the size of the United States has been developed during recent years.

She then appealed to all members to support the churches in the sending of fruit and vegetables to the drought areas of the prairies. She also referred to the damage done to Canada in world wheat markets by wheat speculation. The speaker also told of her visit to Quebec and to the Ursuline convent there. Mrs. McClung said that while there she had realized how little she knew about that province and, likewise, how little they knew of the coast. This led her to appeal for a much wider reading of books about Canada and by Canadian authors. She suggested that the club should make a point of having frequent reviews of books written by Canadians.

The next meeting will be held at 3 o'clock on September 22, on which stood a candelabra with ivory tapers, surrounded by ivory vases of sweet peas in pastel shades. The guests were Mrs. D. R. Black, Mrs. C. E. Mitchell, Mrs. S. Simmons, Mrs. E. Gray, Mrs. R. Foster, Mrs. E. Harvey, Mrs. William Passmore, Mrs. E. Wilders, Mrs. F. Allen and Misses Margaret Thompson, Eileen McCaghey, Marjorie Hurst, Joan McKeechie, Anna Bainave, Doris Higgins, Beatrice Raeside, Margaret Winters, Marjorie Breckenridge and Mildred Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Christensen announce the marriage at Chatham, England, on July 31, of their sister, Sylvia A. Pratt, second daughter of Mr. Hugh Rivers Ford and the late Mrs. Ford of Winnipeg, to Mr. James Guppy, eldest son of Lieut. and Mrs. S. Guppy of Portsmouth, England.

Mrs. J. Gibson and Miss Sybil Holyoak were hostesses recently at 2359 Lee Avenue, at a kitchen shower in honor of Miss Iris Holyoak, whose marriage to Mr. William Allen will take place this month. A novel attraction was a tall kitchen mop dressed to represent a busy housewife, whose ample skirts covered the many useful gifts stacked beneath. Later in the evening a sit-down supper was served, the table being centred with a miniature bride and groom, who stood under a bower of orange blossoms. The invited guests were: Miss Margaret Scott, Miss Adria Murray, Frances Creed, Phyllis Hadfield, Bella Gibson, Sybil Holyoak, Mrs. H. Bates, Mrs. Morrison, Mrs. R. W. Hart, Mrs. McCabe, Mrs. Sinclair, Mrs. J. Gibson, Mrs. F. Holyoak.

Countess Is Streamlined

If you had gone to the pier to greet the plumpish blonde Barbara Hutton who sailed from these shores on her honeymoon, you would hardly have recognized the gawling, streamlined creature with a run in her hose who returned with her new husband, Count Haugwitz-Reventlow. So believe your eyes as you gaze upon the happy, willowy heiress pictured on arrival at New York to select site for a Long Island home.

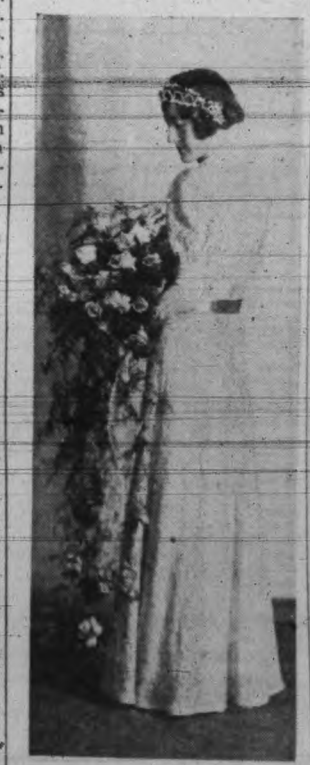

Church Work Begins At Home

HALIFAX—Delegates to the 52nd annual conference of the Women's Auxiliary to the Missionary Society of the Church of England in Canada were told at the concluding sessions by Rt. Rev. L. R. Sherman, Bishop of Calgary, that "we often do more for other people than we do for our own people," and the church should strengthen its home base. "I do not believe the future lies in the igloos of Eskimos or on Indian reservations," the speaker declared in stressing his point that more time and effort should be given to home affairs.

His lordship said at this particular time there was an atmosphere of "uncertainty and insecurity" existing in the western province of Alberta. Reference was made to the "suddenness, the unexpectedness and unreasonable" of actions of the provincial legislature and experiments being carried on in Alberta were regarded "with apprehension."

The situation might develop into a perilous one for the church, the Bishop of Calgary declared. There were all kinds of "isms" in the west, and the church was not adequately equipped to cope with the situation.

"Never before in the history of the Victoria Y.W.C.A. has there been so many leisure-time pursuits offered to the girls and young women who have time on their hands this winter," was the opening remark of the president of the "Y" Girls' Council, as they met together last night. A great deal of enthusiasm was shown by the girls in making this winter a success. Toward this end, extensive plans are being made for "opening night," September 23, and for the publicity booth at the provincial exhibition.

Miss Margaret Ryan, girls' secretary, presented the outline of the 1937-38 folder, which will be ready for distribution at the fair. This is attractively arranged, and presents the following programme groups:

Sewing Classes For Men Open

NEW YORK—Get out your needles and thread, boys—the first sewing school for men is starting up.

Mrs. Ruth Winnek, dress-making expert and "school-marm" of the new institution, feels that the inconvenience of missing buttons, porous socks, etc., has come to outweigh the traditional sissy connotation of sewing, and she's determined to make the man independent.

The course will last three months and cost $25. A lot of men have signed up—mostly bachelors.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

The habits and language which children pick up the moment they begin to play outdoors is always "bad" from the mother's standpoint. Also, it is illustrative, to her, of the ruinous influence of other children, not the growing pains of her own small urchin.

"He never used profanity until he began to play with the children down the street," she is wont to lament. One often wonders, with some amusement, which children on any street please any but their own mothers. Each one views the other's children with eyes of suspicion and a marked readiness to make them the scapegoats for her own child's changed behavior.

Of course other children do have an influence. Just the unity of children against the domination and regimentation of parents gives each of them more courage than any one would possess alone. When the boy begins to play with other boys he finds himself more inclined to ignore his mother's dictates because he has discovered other children who do and who get away with it. When he imitates the robust profanity of other children he feels himself superior to the Pecksniffishness of adults who are shocked and amazed at his knowledge and use of it.

One can hardly find a mother anywhere who isn't upset at what her neighborhood play will do to her hitherto meek and submissive child. But instead of bewailing the influence of playmates, she should welcome and encourage them for there are more wholesome than unwholesome results from neighborhood play. No matter where a child lives, no matter in what neighborhood it is his fortune to grow up, he is certain to meet with influences which to the adult seem pernicious and vicious. But as a weapon in meeting these, there are always his parents, always other children who like himself are safeguarded by the right influences.

The use of profanity is a symptom of growth, not an evidence of rotteness and deterioration of character, and momentary incorrigibility is likewise. Don't blame the neighbor's children too much.

Health Plans To Be Studied

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Hospital Council Thursday adopted a resolution urging all hospital associations, hospital workers and health centres to make a careful study of the whole field of health insurance, heard delegates advocate an eight-hour day for nurses and fair wages for hospital employees, and ended its two-day fourth biennial convention. The council elected Rev. Father Georges Verrault of the University of Ottawa president for the next two years.

The health insurance resolution's preamble took cognizance of an apparent "definite trend in Canada towards government control and socialization of health services, or to what is known as health insurance."

LANGFORD A.Y.P.A.

A meeting of the Langford A.Y.P.A. members was held in the Canadian Legion Hall on Thursday evening. K. B. Hincks, president, welcomed the following visitors, Miss Edna Mumford of New Westminster, Miss Anne Crockett, Ralph Freethy and Ray Hadfield, all from Victoria.

There was a short business meeting and all members were requested to attend the rally, which will be held on Thursday at St. Paul's Hall on September 21. The annual meeting of the local branch will take place on Thursday, September 23.

Ray Hadfield spoke of his recent trip to Montreal, where he attended the Dominion Council as delegate for Victoria and district. He outlined the ideas, discussions and problems of the A.Y.P.A., which arose at that meeting.

Refreshments were served by the social committee.

Tales of Real Dogs

By ALBERT PAYSON TERHUNE

On my desk are more newspaper clippings and typed statements and letters, etc., about "Horse," a German Shepherd (police) dog, than I have been able to collect about any two or three other dogs whose stories I have told in this series. Horse's misadventures seem to have roused popular sympathy and excitement to an unbelievable degree.

Here is the tale of his law-defying exploits and of their grim results:

Horse belonged originally to a woman whose name and address I shan't mention. I am not going to mention them because, after two years in jail, she decided to "go straight." In fact, it is no duty of mine to give her new neighbors a chance to identify her.

She ran a speakeasy, out in the woods, during the prohibition era. Horse was her guard dog. Also he was her guard and the guard of her illicit booze-resort. She had taught him to look after the welfare of customers of hers who were too drunk to go home.

When these intoxicated men staggered out into the woods, near the speakeasy, to sleep off their potations, Horse was trained to go along with them and to lie down at their sides another drunken man was lying in an alleyway; and that a large police dog was standing guard above the souse.

Again the patrolman tried to drive Horse away from his helpless human pal. Again Horse charged at them. This time the man was nearly awake enough to obey the command to stagger to his feet and to crawl into the patrol wagon.

Horse guided his wabbling steps to the wagon, and leaped into it with him. At the police station the prisoner collapsed on a bunk. Horse once more mounted guard at his side.

"The man rolled off onto the floor. Stationmaster Ora Bessing stooped down to pick him up and to lay him back on the couch. But Horse would not have it so. He kept Bessing and all other bluecoats at a respectful distance from the unconscious drunk.

Once again the Humane Society was appealed to. A non-uniformed official of the society came to the station house and led Horse to the local Animal Shelter.

The law condemned the dog to death as a menace to the community. There was too much danger to the police in arresting drunken men while Horse re-woman he had adored since puppyhood.

The Humane Society vouched for his future good behavior. It was arranged that he and his mistress should settle down in some place where no drunks were likely to need police dog protection, and where the two could begin life again together.

A good story, isn't it? And here is wishing many long and happy years of comradeship for the woman and her loyal canine chum!

Cornish School To Open Monday

The noted American soprano Harriet van Emden, who was an associate teacher with Marcella Sembrich and later head of the voice department of the Curtis Institute in Philadelphia, has arrived in Seattle from New York City, her former home, to join the faculty of Cornish School which, opening on Monday, will enter its 24th year of service in the field of education in the arts.

Miss Nellie C. Cornish, the director, has also announced that a new department of radio will be established this fall to supplement the work now offered in the fields of theatre and music. Courses in writing for radio and a workshop course in broadcasting techniques have been organized. Faculty members and students will make appearances over Seattle stations.

The newly-formed division of radio at Cornish will be headed by George Jennings, formerly production director and director of student activities in radio at the University of Illinois.

Stephen Balogh, who is head of the piano department, will return from Vancouver, B.C., where he has been teaching a special summer class. Mr. Balogh is a graduate of Budapest Conservatory and studied piano with Dohnanyi and Debussy. He has been heard during the past year in his series of radio broadcasts of the Beethoven Sonatas.

Cyril Towbin, who will head the violin department, is a graduate of the Institute of Musical Art in New York City. The school of the theatre will continue with its universally acknowledged standard of excellence. This department at Cornish has brought much attention to Seattle and the school through the work of its graduates. Associated with Alexander Koiricansky, director of the school of the theatre, are Hector Cant and Geraldine Hill.

The dance department of the Cornish School, with Bonnie Bird, recently associated with Martha Graham as teacher and member of her dance group; Irene Flyzik, ballet; Dorothy Fisher, tap and stage dancing; Frances Ryan, Hawaiian dancing, is offering a course which cannot be duplicated west of New York City.

Others on the Cornish faculty are noted in their special fields. The school of costume design will be under the direction of Jane Givan, for the past five years a member of the faculty of the Schaeffer School in San Francisco.

Martha Sackett, head of the Normal School and the children's department of music, was for 12 years associated with the late Calvin Brainerd Cady.

Walter Reese will head the Cornish art department. Serreta Thiel, just returned from a summer of teaching in Provincetown, Mass., is a graduate of the Dalcroze School, Geneva, Switzerland, and will teach eurhythmics.

Market Comment On Radio Banned

TORONTO (CP)—Certain subjects, such as commentaries on market prices, will be banned over Canadian radio in the future, Gladstone Murray, chairman of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, said in an interview here.

The CBC directors met here Wednesday. Other subjects to come under the ban will be radio liquor advertising and broadcasts on birth control, Mr. Murray said.

To encourage "live" talent in Canada, recorded programmes will be banned between 7.30 p.m. and 11 p.m. unless special permission is given by the CBC.

Ban on market price broadcasting was to be made because "we've had too many complaints from people who've taken advice from some of these commentaries. They told us they lost money by it," said Mr. Murray.

ANDREW and IMOGENE

By ROE FULKERSON

"Here is some mighty good advice for girls," said Andrew. "It tells them how to choose a husband."

"Nonsense!" said Imogene. "You don't even know what he says!" protested Andrew.

"If you believe it, you are even more foolish than the author."

"Did you ever eat a 50-cent table d'hôte dinner?"

"Who hasn't?"

"A girl who wants to get married, has about as much choice in the matter as the 50-cent table d'hôte diner has. He can have Salisbury steak or Brunswick stew. That's all. There isn't any more. He takes one or the other, or he goes without meat."

"That's the way it is with a girl who is about to get married. If she had her rather, she would marry a man as handsome as a movie actor, as rich as a sea-going yacht owner, as polite as a department store floor walker, and as amusing as the master of ceremonies at a night club. Alas, she has no such chance."

"Like the diner in the cheap restaurant, she has only a couple of choices. She has to take one or the other or starve. It is Hobson's choice. She can take one of them or learn stenography. She can marry one or the other, or pretend that she prefers a career and independence to matrimony. I say she can pretend, because it is always pretence. Any woman would rather be married than have a career."

"If a girl lives in a big city, it would seem that she would have a larger number of men to choose from, a sort of de luxe table d'hôte such as one pays a couple of dollars for. But such is not the case, because no matter how large the city, the girl has only a small circle of men friends, and among these there are only one or two eligibles. She may live in a city of hundreds of thousands, but when it comes to getting married, her choice is limited to about two or three men."

"If she lives in a small town, it is the same thing all over again. She may know all the young people in town, but there are few eligibles, and the boys have difficulty surrounding a girl with glamour when they have known her since mud pie days."

"Now, take me for example I—"

"I don't feel that this is going to be good news for me!" sighed Andrew.

"Who else was there for me to marry but you?"

"Why, no one, of course. There were dozens of fine boys in our town, but none of them compared with me!"

"You had just as many warts on your hands as any of the rest of them; you had just as bad taste in neckties; you were just as awkward and stupid in your attentions to a girl; and you were quite the worst dancer in town!"

"It wasn't such a big town!" defended Andrew.

"If it had been twice as large, you would still have been its worst dancer. That reminds me, Andrew, that ever now, your dancing is none too good, and I wish—"

"No one else is complaining!"

"Did you see Bill and me doing the rhumba the other night?" demanded Imogene.

"Did the advice to young girls include the suggestion that they better marry a good dancer, because it is unlikely that he would ever consider it necessary for him to improve his dancing?" asked Imogene acidly.

"I don't remember," said Andrew sadly. "In fact, I am trying hard to forget all about the whole matter."

Art Centre For Canada Sought

At its first fall meeting, held yesterday evening in the Women's Institute rooms, the Victoria and Islands Branch of the Canadian Authors' Association heard reviews of summer activities by conveners of its poetry, drama and short story groups, and brief talks by Mrs. Hubbard Ellis, London writer-lecturer, and Mrs. Nellie McClung, Canadian Broadcasting Corporation director.

Mrs. Ellis told the local authors of plans for a Canadian Art centre in London, with a bureau to aid Canadian music-students in making social contacts in England and in finding suitable lodging; an appropriate display of Canadian manual art, and a library of works by Canadian authors. The idea had originated in the Canadian Women's Club in London, Mrs. Ellis said, and the need of educating the English to Canadian art and Canadian culture was being taken into consideration. Sponsors for the plan were being sought in Canada.

Mrs. McClung, speaking of her recent trip to Quebec, said she had acquired a new understanding of the need for Canadian unity.

"The radio," she said, "may give to Canada the tapestry of nationhood." Although Quebec seemed a part of another world, an unprejudiced study of its culture might add to the national enrichment.

Miss Audrey St. Denis Wood spoke on the sessions of the Banff Drama School, and especially the play-writing classes, held this summer. She brought to the attention of playwrights and poets the increasingly popular poetic and symphonic dramas, the latter set against a background of music.

Mrs. E. G. Ferne, Mrs. Myrtle E. Lane and Mrs. Floris Clark McLaren outlined the work of the poetry, drama and short story groups respectively. Miss Eugenie Perry was chairman.

Francoists Say They Have Submarines

LONDON (CP)—Reuter's news agency, in a dispatch from Bilbao, Thursday night, quoted Gen. Queipo de Llano, the insurgent "radio general," as declaring the Spanish insurgents have four submarines in the Mediterranean.

"Neither we nor the reds (government) have constructed submarines of our own," the general said. "The reds bought some. We, too, bought four. They are in the Mediterranean."

while they slept; and to protect them from possible pickpockets and from police. He had been taught to recognize and to hate the sight of a police uniform.

When his mistress's speakeasy was raided and she was sent to prison, Horse managed to sustain life by his own efforts and by the kindness of those who had been the woman's customers. The dog carried with him his early training as regards drunks and patrolmen.

For instance: One Sunday morning, the services in the First Baptist Church on Jefferson Street, in Fort Wayne, Indiana, were interrupted by the sound of loud snoring. The pastor, Rev. L. R. Berry, investigated.

Asleep in a far corner lay a man who was slumbering off his all-night potations. Crouched beside the sleeper was Horse, one paw laid protectively on the man's chest.

Mr. Berry tried to shake the drunk into wakefulness. At his first touch on the slumberer's shoulder, Horse snarled so viciously that the clergyman went in quest of the police.

At the sight of the approaching men clad in the uniforms he had been trained to detest, Horse rushed to the attack. A Humane Society officer was sent for. He lassoed the dog and led him away.

Horse made no special resistance. He had no grudge against humans who did not wear uniforms. Somehow, the animal got loose from his captor, or else was released by him.

For, a few nights later, word was brought to the police that remained at large to guard such unfortunate. It was decreed he must be put out of the way within seven days.

Then came public protest. The newspapers had printed Horse's story, at great length. The papers of other cities, besides Fort Wayne, had taken up the tale.

Policemen and civilians testified that the dog was gentle and friendly and clever and that he was an adoring pal of all children. In short, that his only semblance of ferocity was when he was engaged in the self-chosen job of protecting drunken folk from uniformed patrolmen.

A petition for clemency was drawn up and circulated. Eagerly it was signed, by dog fanciers and by other people in the State of Indiana. Among the signers were various policemen.

Meantime, more than 200 officers, one of them from the former Irene Castle, came pouring in, pledging the condemned dog a number of good homes if only he might be reprieved from the death sentence. All at once, Horse had become a public character, a hero; a potential martyr.

Then it was that his original owner read of his dire peril. She had served her prison term; and she had started out afresh, in a rural community, far away on a decent and law-abiding life.

She came to the police, accompanied by people willing to vouch for her. There she pleaded for her chum dog's release.

Horse was in a far part of the jail, wholly out of sight or sound or scent of the woman. Yet suddenly he went frantic with excitement.

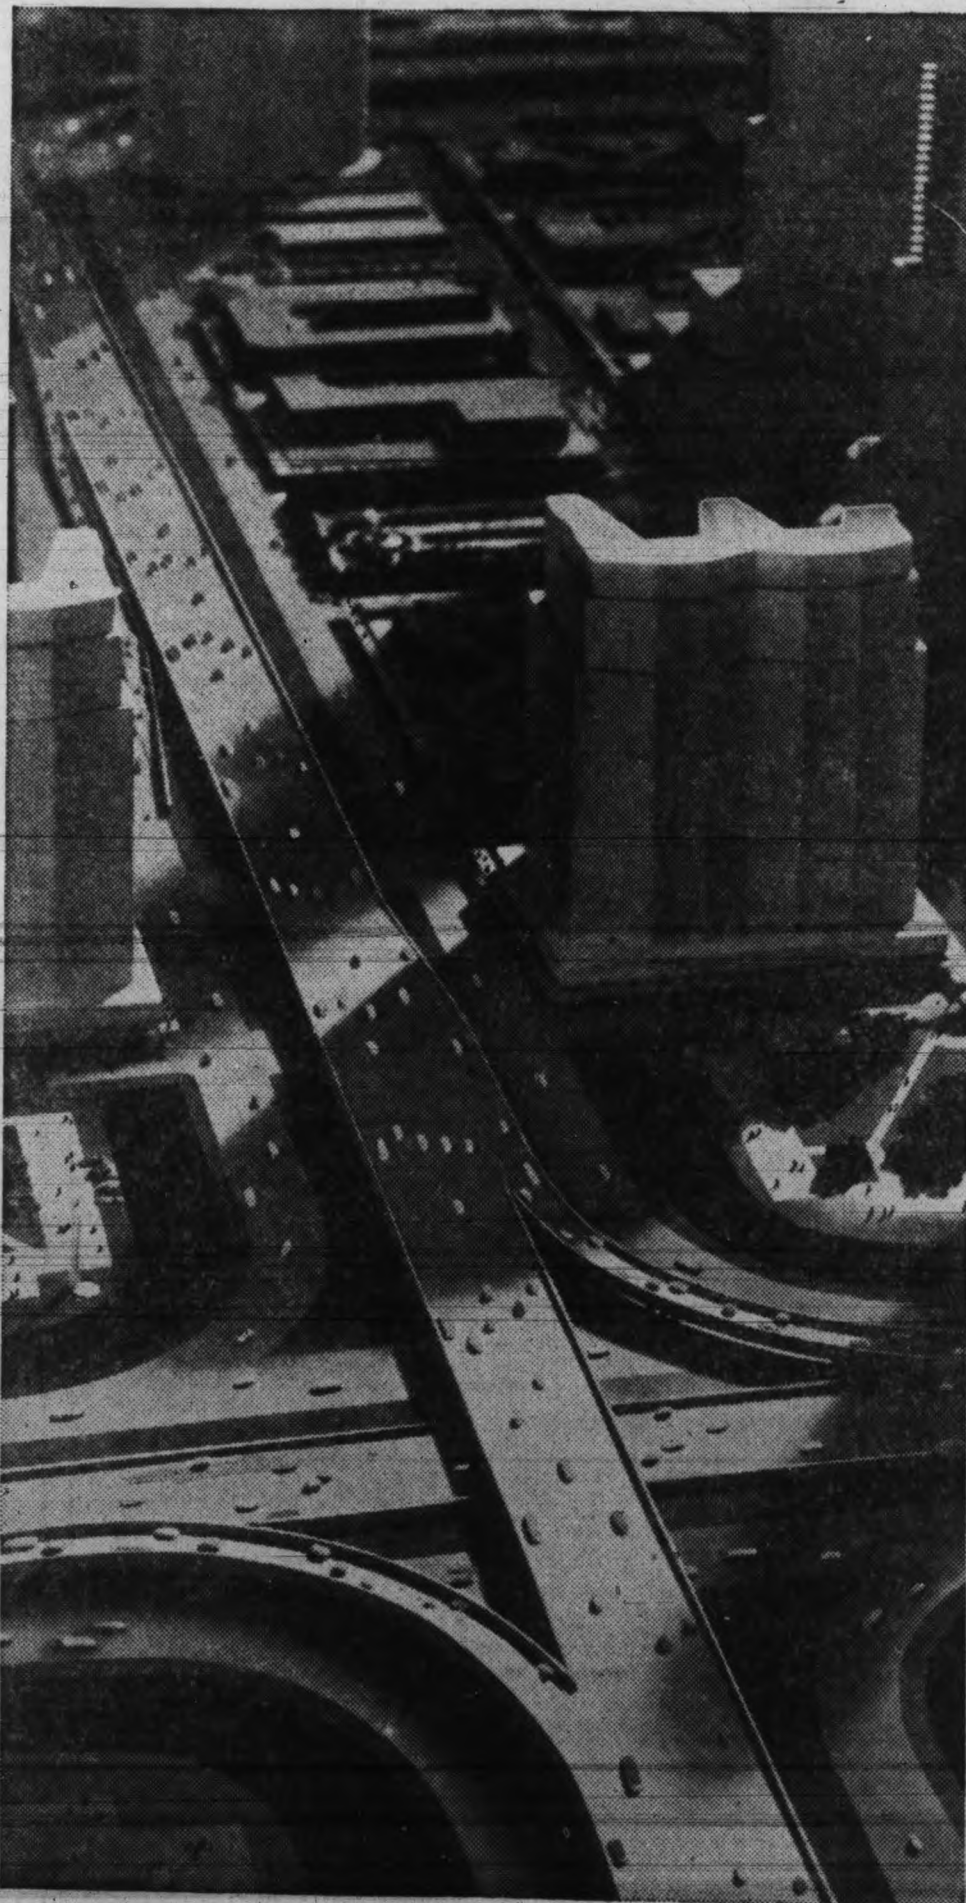

When he was let out of his cell, he raced wildly to the office where his mistress awaited him. She broke down and cried as Horse flung himself rapturously at her, yelping in ecstasy and licking her tear-stained face.

After two years of separation the woman and her worshipping dog were reunited. Hard-faced officials blew their noses loudly or turned away, at sight of the meeting.

Then the law showed its kinder aspect. There were conferences and concessions, then more conferences with the Humane Society. Red tape was cut. Decisions and verdicts were reversed. Human nature triumphed over strict judicial procedure.

The upshot of it all was that Horse was reprieved from his sentence of death; and he was set free in the custody of the

Well-balanced Card For Opening of Races

By ART STOTT

Mars in the ascendant. War activity in the Orient gives rise to reports, later denied, that Japan may decline to finance the Olympics. Strife continues on the Spanish front. Labor trouble results in bloodshed in the United States.

A lively battle is brewing in the city's swimming ranks.

And you can look for your annual basketball strife to break almost any time now. There are several fuses lying around waiting for a match to touch them off.

The Dominion Football Association reports further financial losses for last season. The organization sets the visit of Charlton Athletic as the most important factor in the deficit. Those connected with newspapers in this city will find it difficult to imagine that too liberal distribution of passes caused the association to go in the red. Nay, nay, mon.

Cricketers who failed to make the trip south with Victoria's rep team may find solace from the fact they avoided a considerable amount of grief. One of the private cars carrying the local men to Hollywood became tired out and virtually folded up near San Francisco.

Harold Brynjolfson, who teed off on a masher, presents highlights from the city golf meet.

Jimmy Todd shot par or better in three out of the four matches he played in the championship—Bob Morrison would give a lot to be able to play his second shot on the second hole against Jimmy Todd over again—The same goes for Bill Squire's second shot on the 17th in the semi-final—Two of the longest drives seen on Colwood for some time: Todd's on the second hole in the afternoon round of the final and Bill Squire's against the wind on the 17th against Jimmy—If anybody doubts Todd's ability to hit a long tee shot when he wants to, just take a peek at his average in the driving competition; on a level fairway and a calm day he poured wood into three drives for a total of 823 yards or an average of 274 per drive—Bill Newcombe shot some of the best golf of his career to win the first flight—Ted Horsey, popular captain at Royal Colwood, may not be able to break par for 18 holes, but he sure shot some birdies in the speech he made before presenting the prizes.

Two golfers who a few years ago were tops in the Pacific Northwest were seen playing good golf shots on Labor Day at Colwood; they are Arthur Bull of Jericho Club, Vancouver, and A. T. Goward of Victoria Golf Club—This is one for Ripley, Hugo Allen and Alan Macey played the 17th hole twice in their match on Sunday morning; Macey won at the 19th—Walter Newcombe made an excellent showing considering the amount of golf he has played this summer—Ted Colgate has one of the smartest golf swings seen around Victoria's fairways for some time—Cec Brown could give some of the boys a lesson in how not to alibi after losing a golf game—Col Slater demonstrated that he can hit a golf ball in winning the second flight—The third hole gave the boys a beating in the qualifying round, it was played 54 times for a total of 46 strokes over par—The lad who defeated Jimmy Todd in the P.N.W. left-handers' tournament at Tacoma was playing at Colwood on Monday—and can he smack 'em.

WINS COMPETITION

Turning in cards of 97-16—81 and 97-19—78 respectively, Mrs. H. F. Crowe and Mrs. R. I. Pocock won top honors in the monthly medal competition held at Colwood.

Better Purses For Meet This Year Indicated

Association to Allocate 5 Per Cent of Mutuel Increase to Horsemen

Eight Races Billed

With a neatly-balanced card, eight races a day in all, Victoria's two weeks of thoroughbred racing will open tomorrow at Wilfrids Park. Prospects of fine weather today gave indications of a record crowd at the popular enclosure. On the mainland this season horse racing took on a spectacular revival and is expected to follow suit here.

The opening card will be featured by the Saanich Handicap at six furlongs and 30 yards, it was announced today. With such speedsters as Wracia, winner of her last three starts on the mainland; Be Mine, Rondeller, Pass Up, Jillion, Lady Gold, Margery Daw, High Tension and Guaranty as eligibles, a speedy field was promised.

For the first time this year Victorians will see Joey, the "little comet," in action. This spectacular little gelding, a son of Dr. Joe, who ran third in the Longacres mile two years ago, came with the C. L. Jacques stable. He is just coming round to best form and should account for several purses here.

TWO-MILER

A two-miler is on tap for the curtain-raising card. With acceptances still to come this morning, Silva had been assigned top weight of 115 pounds. Silver Bond, who won the closing distance event at Hastings Park Monday, was given the task of packing 114, and Leeward, another of the route stars, 110. Bummer Bill, winner of the two-miler at Brighouse, was assigned 107.

Two other distance races, in the claiming division, are listed for tomorrow, one at a mile and sixteenth for $800 horses and the other at a mile and 70 for $600.

A six furlong and 30 yard dash for $600 horses and two events for western breeds, one at six furlongs and 30 and the other at five and a half furlongs, complete the flat races and the programme will finish up with a steeplechase at a mile and one-half.

BIGGER PURSES

Purses paid to the winning owners probably will be larger than last year, according to an announcement by the racing association. Horsemen have been guaranteed they will get at least as much as in 1936, with the provision that 5 per cent of any increase in the wagering will be divided pro rata among the winners. With a substantial increase in betting on the mainland this year a gain here is practically assured, meaning more money to the owners.

The guarantee for handicaps will be $200 to the winner, $50 to second, $25 to third and $5 to each of the other starters. In claiming and special events, the split will be $135 to the winner, $40 to second, $20 to third and $5 to the rest. Jockeys get $15 for winning mounts and $5 for losers.

Mimico and Terriers Start Important Series Tonight; Set Final Venues

TORONTO—Fighting for the Senior Ontario Amateur Lacrosse Association championship, Orillia Terriers and Mimico Mountaineers start their best-of-five series here tonight.

The series winner plays the Cornwall District champions and meets Quebec champions, and winners of that series travel west, with play-offs scheduled against Manitoba champions at Winnipeg, Alberta champions at Medicine Hat, and winners of this series going to British Columbia for the Mann Cup, emblematic

Lalonde Picks All-time Team

Greats of Lacrosse Named by Outstanding Star in Mythical Squad

MONTREAL — Their deeds written deeply into the history of the game, a team of 12 men stood today as choices of Edward Cyril (Newsy) Lalonde for Canada's all-time, all-star lacrosse team.

Of course, Newsy's name was excluded from the lineup, although old-timers say there was none greater than this Cornwall, Ont., born star who gained fame as the highest paid professional lacrosse player in Canada and became one of hockey's greats.

"This was the way Newsy lined his team up:

Goal, Cory Hess of New Westminster, B.C.; point, Joe Cattarino, Montreal; cover point, Jim Kavanagh, Montreal; first defence, Mickey Ion, Hamilton, Ont.; second defence, Harry Pickering, Toronto; third defence, Douggy Spring, New Westminster; centre, Gene (Daredevil) Gauthier, Montreal; first home, Henry Scott, Montreal; second home, Bill Fitzgerald, St. Catharines, Ont.; third home, Albert Dade, Montreal; outside home, Henry Hoobin, Montreal; inside home, Grumpy Spring.

Newsy figures the winning of the Canadian lacrosse championship by a Montreal team is all that's needed to put the game "over big" here. And says Newsy, "Give me unlimited scouting power and a few dollars and I'll bring the cup here."

BRUINS BOW TO DEFEAT

Were Humbled By Hollywood Club B Team, 6 to 0, in City Play-offs

Painter's Bruins, Vancouver Island senior A champions, took an unexpected plunge last night when they fell to defeat before the onslaught of Hollywood Club B softballers, 6 to 0, in the opening game of the city championship play-offs at Victoria West Park.

For four innings, Tommy Johnston, on the hill for the clubmen, twirled no-hit ball, but Norm Stewardson laced out the Bruins' only single in the next frame to rob the moundman of a perfect night. Johnston got fine support from his teammates.

Hollywood Club batters got to Harold Turner for six safeties.

Score by innings: Hollywood Club — 02022-6 Painter's Bruins — 00000-0 Batteries—Johnson and Farey; Turner and Berry.

The second game will be played at Bullen Park, Esquimalt, Sunday morning at 10.30. If Painter's Bruins win this game the third will be played at 3 in the afternoon.

of the Senior Canadian Lacrosse Championship. The Mann Cup final is with the British Columbia finalists.

Mimico has been resting lately, while Orillia went through a hard series with St. Catharines Athletics in the semi-final round. The Terriers took the series three straight, but lost the services of three men from the opening final series.

SPLIT PLAY-OFF VENUES

Mike Kelley, president of the Canadian Amateur Lacrosse Association, announced yesterday the Mann Cup finals would be played alternately at New Westminster and Vancouver, irrespective of the results of the first game.

Giants Gain On Split Twin Bill

New Yorkers Advance Over Cubs as Chicago Team Loses to Cards

Old Pop Time marked up the final out for one of baseball's grander playing careers today.

Mickey Cochrane was definitely and officially through as a catcher; in the future, he'll be bench manager only for his Detroit Tigers.

And all over the big leagues, the reaction was the same: "He was a great guy while he had it."

Mickey is one of the fellows who makes baseball the national pastime. He was the sparkplug of one world championship team and backbone and manager of another.

His 34 years and the effects of a "beanball" that fractured his skull early this season have made him hang up his mitt and mask for keeps. Yesterday he wrote this to his playing career: by signing a new contract as non-playing pilot of the Tigers for next season.

In his 12 seasons under the big tent, he's batted .320 in 1,455 games and has driven in 820 runs. He's been in five world series, three for the Athletics and two (1934-35) as pilot of his own Tigers. Those are the only clubs for which he's played since coming up from Portland in 1925 at a fancy price of $50,000—but worth every cent of it.

GIANTS MOVE AHEAD

In the National League, the Giants are three games in front by virtue of a split in their doubleheader with their best-loved "haters," the Brooklyn Dodgers, yesterday. Carl Hubbell was belted, 5 to 1, in the opener, but the New Yorkers came back to take the nightcap, 9 to 2, with master Melvin Ott whacking four hits.

This even break boosted their league edge a half game since the Cubs finally lost their jinx hold on the Cardinals and were given a thorough going over, the Gas House Gang winning 8 to 2 behind Lon Warneke.

The Red Sox stopped stooging for the Yankees for a day and hammered out a 13 to 7 victory over the American League leaders with a 16-hit attack. This defeat, coupled with the Tigers' 10 to 9 victory over the Indians, cut the Yanks' pace-setting margin to 11 games. A single by Billy Rogell in the ninth, with the bases loaded, brought the Tigers in.

Dutch Brandt's four-hitter gave the Pirates a 1 to 0 decision over the Cincinnati Reds. Vince DiMaggio's three-run homer enabled the Boston Bees to win over the Phillies by a 5 to 3 margin.

The Senators slugged the Athletics twice, 13 to 6 and 12 to 10,

Track Quartette Goes to Mainland

Headed by Bill Dale, who looks to be the pick of the quartette in regard to winning or capturing a place in his specialty, the half mile, four of the Y.M.C.A. star track and field men will make the trip to the mainland Saturday to bid for positions on the British Empire Games' team tomorrow.

Chuck Cunningham, veteran miler, will also make the trip, as will Fred Leffler, local marathon ace, and Art Brookman, the Y.M.C.A. hope in the broad-jump event.

PREPARED FOR TITLE BATTLE

Freddy Steele and Ken Overlin Wind Up Heavy Workouts For Bout Tomorrow

SEATTLE—Only brief callisthenics were slated today by middleweight champion Freddie Steele and challenger Ken Overlin as they concluded heavy training for the third time in preparation for a title bout—this one to be held tomorrow night.

And Promoter Nate Druxman said only the direst kind of accident would prevent the twice-postponed 15-round battle from starting at approximately 9 to-morrow night.

COAST LEAGUE

San Francisco's erratic Seals moved into a tie for second place in the Pacific Coast Baseball League today.

They got there largely through the efforts of the fourth-place Los Angeles club. The Angels paired down the San Diego Padres, recent league leaders and yesterday sole possessors of second place 11 to 7, and 9 to 2 yesterday.

The Seals haphazardly split a double-header with the San Francisco Missions, 5 to 6 and 14 to 3. The Seals banged out 19 hits in the second game, while Wil Ballou limited the Reds to five.

Sacramento increased its lead to six and a half games with a pair of wins over Portland. The Solons got off to a running start with six runs in the opening frame to take the opener from the Beavers, 16 to 5 and rallied in the eighth inning of a scheduled seven inning second game to win, 5 to 2.

Big Din When Run Hits Bay

Many Reels Whine in Unison When Springs Reach Cowichan Bay

The peaceful atmosphere of daybreak at Cowichan Bay was rent with the shrill whines of a score or more singing reels yesterday, when the first major run of spring salmon started into the bay and fell prey to the lures of a good number of fishermen out to try their luck in the early morning.

According to David Angus, who was out at the time, it was one of the strangest happenings he has ever seen. "One minute, he said, everything was quiet and peaceful, and the next minute it seemed that every angler in the bay was fighting a fish, with the whining reels creating quite a din over the waters."

Angus, fishing with Bill Mearns, hooked into three, but was only able to land one. This morning, however, he landed a 28-pounder, which he immediately brought to town and had displayed at 615 View Street. He was using a King Basser plug with a comparatively short line and about one pound of weight. Fishing is excellent there now he reported, with the best time being from daybreak until 6 in the morning.

Flanagan Sets Four U.S. Marks

CHICAGO—Broad-shouldered Ralph Flanagan, 20-year-old Olympic veteran from Miami, Fla., crammed four record-smashing performances into one race yesterday as he outclassed his field to win the Amateur Athletic Union's one-mile swimming championship for the third straight year.

Flanagan won by 200 yards over young John Patton Jr., of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and erased marks set up by Jack Medica, great freestyle powerhouse from Seattle.

Swimming alone after the first length of the 55-yard course, Flanagan increased his margin with every stroke, to shatter the world and meet record of 20.57.5, established by Medica in 1934, by 15.2. En route, he lowered Medica's 1,300-yard American record from 15:41 to 15:28 and trimmed the great westerner's American 1,500-metre mark from 19:20 to 19:18.2.

Navy to Play Owl Drug Team

The Owl Drug boxla squad will oppose the Royal Canadian Navy squad at Esquimalt this evening in an exhibition game at the new drill hall. The game will begin at 7.30.

Line-ups follow: Owl Drug—Turner, Packford, Michel, Milnes, Wallace, Rowe, Noel, Cullin, Blay, Thomas, Bischlager and Ray Williams.

Navy—W. DeCosta, Arnott, Lawrence, McNeely, Quissey, Mundie, Dobson, Cockrill, McKiver and E. DeCosta.

Dancing will follow the game.

SOCCER MEETING

Reorganization of the junior and juvenile football set-up will be made at a meeting to be held in the Colonist board room on Tuesday at 7.30. Any new clubs wishing to compete this year are asked to have delegates present. All members of last year's teams are asked to have delegates present.

Former U.S. Women's Tennis Champion Falls Before Polish Ace

FOREST HILLS, N.Y.—Helen Jacobs, champion from 1932 through 1935 and beaten finalist last year, today was eliminated from the women's national singles championships before a capacity crowd of 14,000 in the West Side Tennis Club stadium. Her conqueror in a semi-final match was Jadwiga Jedzejowska, hard-hitting Polish girl, who won at 6-4, 6-4.

Yesterday J. Donald Budge, flaming-haired favorite from Oakland, Calif., kept clear his record of not losing a set on his march to the men's national singles title by defeating Joe Hunt of Los Angeles, blond junior champion, 6-1, 6-2, 6-4 in a quarter-final match played before a sun-drenched crowd of 8,000.

The last match yesterday saw Jadwiga Jedzejowska, the Pole who hits like a man, come up with more low-hopping forehand wallops than Ruth Mary Hardwick, English Wightman Cup No. 2 singles player, could handle. The invader gained the right to meet Helen Jacobs by scores of 6-4, 6-2. The other women's semi-final paired Dorothy May Bundy of Santa Monica, Calif., with Anita Lezand of Chile.

PARKER WINS

Earlier F. Parker, stylist from Milwaukee and New York, survived one anxious hour before marching into the semi-final round over the veteran John Van Ryn of Austin, Texas. Parker's winning scores were 6-2, 12-10, 6-2.

By his triumph the third-seeded, 21-year-old David Cupper, joined Baron Gottfried von Cramm of Germany and Bobby Riggs of Los Angeles in the semi-finals.

Helen Jacobs, 29-year-old veteran from Berkeley, Calif., entered the semis by putting on a killing spurt that eliminated Kay Stammers, petite, English south-paw, 7-5, 6-3.

Reg Hopkins and Johnny Pears Will Meet in Main Tussle Tomorrow Night

Headlined by the appearance of Johnny Pears and Reg Hopkins in the main go, a five-bout, all-local wrestling show will be presented at the Tillicum gym tomorrow night by promoter Fred Richardson. The show will open at 8.45.

A good battle should be witnessed when Hopkins grapples with Pears over the 10 six-minute round route. Pears gives Hopkins a few years in age, but is a master of scientific wrestling and also always ready to rough matters up when the occasion calls for it.

George Love, the "Chinese Flash," will don his wrestling togs again to meet Bill Steen in the five six-minute round semi-main grind, while the special event will see "Legs" Hay tackle Bing Quon. Two other matches will bring together Pat Morris and Jack Frost and Young Sarpolis and Jim Casey.

HUDDERSFIELD MEETS BOLTON

Leicester City to Play Arsenal Tomorrow; Manchester Faces Sunderland

LONDON—Although the English Football League season is only two weeks old, not one of the 88 clubs has obtained maximum points.

Many clubs will be below strength for tomorrow's contests owing to a heavy crop of injuries suffered in the heavy opening programme played on sun-baked grounds.

Surprise team of the campaign to date, Bolton Wanderers head the First Division with seven points, one more than the Gunners, and have yet to taste defeat. The Lancastrians, who last year narrowly escaped relegation, have shown a remarkable reversal of form. Bolton plays at Huddersfield tomorrow.

Leicester City is host to Arsenal, and a lively tussle is in prospect. Sunderland, English Cup holder, is at home to Manchester City, league champions. Manchester City has not yet struck its stride, judging by the 4-to-1 defeat inflicted by Everton Wednesday.

SCOTTISH LEAGUE

GLASGOW — Coupled with Glasgow Rangers as only unbeaten club in the Scottish Football League's First Division, Dundee is on the spot tomorrow at Aberdeen. And while this test is going on, the champions and Celtic, the circuit's giants, are billed at Ibrox Park.

Bracketed with Aberdeen, Celtic and Rangers for the runner-up position, Motherwell goes to Hamilton. The Accies have split points in their last four home games against Motherwell, but the visitors are favorites to take the "rubber."

Morton, with five consecutive defeats and still without a point, is underdog Saturday against Falkirk at Cappielow Park. Third Lanark, tied with Falkirk and Hearts in third place, meets Queen's Park at Hampden. The Edinburgh Derby brings together Hearts and Hibernians at Tynecastle Park.

THREE CRICKET GAMES CARDED

Incogs to Meet Cowichan; Victoria to Play Five C's

Local cricket elevens will take part in three matches tomorrow. Incogs will be at home to the visiting Cowichan team in a league match at the University School grounds, while at Macdonald Park Victoria will entertain Five C's in another league encounter.

At Beacon Hill the Albions will play the Victoria B eleven in a benefit match for Groundsman Tom Hoggarth. All fixtures will begin at 2.

Teams follows:
Albions—N. F. Pite (captain), D. Pite, Don Pite, Freeman, D. Pitkethley, Walton, Hoggarth, Pritchard, Walls, Smith and Enoch.

Five C's—Yoxall, Attwell, Nixon, J. Payne, G. Payne, Griffin, Bolster, Petch, Hesketh, Baker and Whitehead.
Victoria—G. Austin (captain), P. Austin, Robbins, Moore, Swainson, Proudfoot, Jones, Collett, Ley, Mitchell and Swainson.

DECLINE RECOGNITION

NEW YORK—The New York State Athletic Commission yesterday declined to recognize the winner of the forthcoming 15-round match between Marcel Thill of France and Fred Apostoli of San Francisco, as world's middle-weight champion.

The commission recognizes Freddie Steele of Tacoma, as world king of the 160-pounders.

BIG DOG SHOW ON TOMORROW

All-breed Championship Event to Be Staged at Crystal Garden

A large entry of dogs from leading kennels on the island, Southern California, Washington, Oregon, Alberta and Saskatchewan, including breeds that have never been shown here before, has been received for the Vancouver Island Dog Fanciers' Association's Jubilee All-breed Championship Show, which will be held at the Crystal Garden tomorrow.

The show, which will open at 10.30 and close late in the evening, promises to be the season's highlight event of this nature. Entries to date total 138 dogs.

Newcomers that will be displayed to local canine lovers are greyhounds, Afghan hounds and standard poodles, all from Los Angeles.

Many beautiful trophies, such as the Spratt's Challenge Cup and the fine sterling silver cup donated by Lieut.-Gov. E. W. Hamer and others will be at stake, with Horace Wilkinson, Vancouver, and formerly of England, being the judge.

Two parades will be held during the evening, one for champions and another for all dogs entered.

A silver tea service and tray will be given away during the evening.

Miss V. Harris won the monthly medal competition played on the links at Duncan on Wednesday with a net score of 74, handicap 14. Mrs. J. Longbourne was a close second with 76, handicap 16. Others taking part were: Mrs. G. G. Share, Mrs. Boyd-Wallis, Miss P. Carr-Hilton, Miss J. Duncan and Miss D. Powel.

Haulfryn Wins Doncaster Cup

DONCASTER, Yorkshire—F. C. Minoprio's four-year-old colt Haulfryn, by Sunny Trace-Wil-lony, today won the Doncaster Cup over two and one-eighth miles, defeating A. Gordon Smith's veteran campaigner, Fearless Fox, by a head.

Anthony de Rothschild's Suerain was beaten by half a length for a second place in the close finish. Haulfryn started at 8 to 1, Fearless Fox at 6 to 4, and Suerain at 7 to 4. Six ran.

Declare Freddie Steele Is Champ

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York State Athletic Commission today declined to recognize the winner of the forthcoming 15-round match between Marcel Thill of France and Fred Apostoli of San Francisco as world's middle-weight champion.

The commission recognizes Freddie Steele of Tacoma as world king of the 160-pounders. Mike Jacobs, promoter of the bout, and representatives of Thill protested against the commission ruling. They declared that prior to 1932, Gorilla Jones, Akron, O., negro, was recognized in New York State as world champion and that on June 13, 1932, Thill defeated the American in a title match. Therefore, they declared, Thill should be recognized here.

The commission replied that Thill had forfeited his right to the title by refusing to accept several invitations to defend the title here.

SOCCER WORKOUT

All of last season's players and any others wishing to play for the club are asked to attend the Victoria West Football Club workout at the Heywood Avenue grounds, Sunday morning at 10.30.

Settlement Of Account Sought

Children's Aid Society Wants 1936 Deficit Paid By City

Payment of the 1936 deficit of the Children's Aid Society is sought in a letter filed at the City Hall this morning under the signatures of E. I. W. Jardine and Sydney Child.

The amount of the deficit is $884.86, and in asking settlement the society officials have also requested the city to recognize its per capita per diem charges of 69¢ cents.

In presenting the account the society pointed out that the total cost of operation for 1936, was $6,284.86, of which the city has already paid $5,400.

Failure of the city to recognize the per capita charge compiled by the society may mean the latter will go to the courts for settlement, the letter indicated.

The letter quoted the per capita per diem charges in Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver as being 83¢, 72¢ and 71¢ cents, respectively. In each instance the figure was established by courts.

Junior Chamber Members Return

"The foundation for a nationwide organization was laid at the convention of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of British Columbia, in Vancouver this week," T. E. Watkins, president of the Victoria Junior Chamber, said this morning.

Mr. Watkins returned from the three-day convention yesterday. Leslie F. Osborne and Norman Foster, who attended the annual gathering with Mr. Watkins, also returned last night.

Resolutions would be returned to the various chambers before being released for publication, Mr. Watkins said, and a report of the activities of the delegates would be discussed at the annual meeting, September 20.

He expressed the gratitude of the Victoria delegates for the excellent entertainment provided by the Vancouver hosts at the convention, and said that "a considerable number of matters of general interest were discussed, and delegates were particularly pleased with the progress made."

It is expected the document will go to the Legislature in October.

BURKE LEADS OPEN FIELD

Posts 36-Hole Total of 138 to Top Early Finishers in Canadian Golf

ST. ANDREW'S GOLF CLUB, TORONTO — Billie Burke of Cleveland came through with his second consecutive score of 69 for a total of 138 to lead early finishers today at the 36-hole stage of the Canadian open golf championship.

A slender young dark horse from Texas, Ben Hogan, scored a brilliant 67, three under par, for a total of 141 and was second to Burke among those who finished the 36-hole route early.

Hogan's margin was four better than slamm'n' Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and Willie Lamb of Toronto who had identical scores of 75-70-145. Back at 148, leaving him little chance of overtaking the leaders was Jimmy Thomson of Shawnee-on-Delaware, Pa., with 72-76.

Al Watrous of Detroit pulled up among the leaders with a par of 70 and Bobby Alston of Ottawa came through with a fine 71. Watrous was at 141 for 36 holes and Alston 143.

Co-leader with Harry Cooper yesterday at 67, Leo Diegel of Philmont, Pa., faded to 74 on his second round and joined Watrous and Hogan in the 141 group. Putts were not dropping for the four-times winner of the event.

The provincial cabinet today considered what should be done with inmates of the Home for the Friendless, an institution in Burnaby, which was the subject of a government investigation earlier this year. A decision was not announced.

HOTELS HAVE GOOD SEASON

Improvement Over 1936 Noted By Canadian Pacific Western Head

In spite of a poor start through the combination of widespread labor troubles and bad weather, this year's summer season has been a good one for hotels in western Canada, according to Thomas E. Chester, Canadian Pacific Railway assistant general manager of hotels in charge of the western division.

Hotel strikes in the United States and a number of other labor disturbances during the first days of July kept away a lot of potential travelers, Mr. Chester said. However, the excellent weather of the present time seemed likely to extend the end of the travel season, he believed.

C.P.R. hotels in western Canada are back to the 1929 level as far as numbers of visitors are concerned, but not in earnings, because of the lower rates now in force, Mr. Chester said.

Mr. Chester is here to arrange the final details for the arrival at the Empress Hotel tomorrow of 115 delegates from all parts of Canada who have been attending the convention of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in Vancouver, and also of an inspection party made up of Sir Edward Beatty, president of the C.P.R., and other high officials of the company.

Y.M.C.A. DRIVE IS UNDER WAY

Association Starts Telephone Check of Membership List

The Y.M.C.A. telephone check of memberships, which will take the place of the regular fall membership drive this year, got away to a good start yesterday evening with a banquet held in the association cafeteria.

Twenty workers, forming two divisions, will take part in the campaign, which will not be held with a view to canvassing for new members, owing to the Community Chest drive which is to be held in November.

The object of the drive is to renew old memberships, of which 329 fall due before the end of the year. All present members will be approached for renewals during the week of the drive. Of the prospects to be approached 236 are present members while 76 are donors of memberships worth from $4 to $25.

Warren W. Martin and Ernest Harrison will lead the group of experienced campaigners. E. G. Rowebottom, president of the membership committee, presided at the meeting.

Strange Address But It Worked

Dorothy Brethour, a school girl of Sidney, V.I. will receive a letter tomorrow from Australia that she didn't in the least expect. It is from someone she doesn't know.

The letter was forwarded today from the Legislative Buildings. It was originally addressed: "To a rural school girl, age 12 c.o. the Director of Education, Canada."

Postal officials and the education department were puzzled at first. Then they realized the letter was probably the attempt of some little girl in Australia, where the missive was postmarked, to start correspondence with a girl in Canada. Miss Brethour was chosen because she happened to fit the title of the address and a friend happened to see the letter.

Winnifred Evans Beaten in Golf

Niakwa Country Club, Winnipeg—Heather Leslie, 19-year-old Manitoba champion, and the Canadian women's open queen, Mrs. John Rogers, made the Canadian close final an all-Winnipeg affair today by winning semi-final matches impressively.

Mrs. Rogers, gunning for the double win accomplished only by Ada Mackenzie of Toronto in 1926 and 1933, defeated Toronto's Willo Love, 4 and 3. Miss Leslie ousted Winnifred Evans, Vancouver, 7 and 6.

Sealing the openings of abandoned coal mines has reduced pollution by acids in the Monongahela, Allegheny, and Ohio Rivers.

Japanese Out Of Tsingtao
TSINGTAO (AP)—Tsingtao, strategically the most important port of north China, was ominously quiet today with the complete evacuation of all Japanese interests.
Not only have the 25,000 Japanese nationals been removed, but Japanese warships have left the harbor and the Japanese flag has been lowered from breweries, textile mills, factories and shipping concerns representing a $45,000,000 investment.
Observers feared Japanese forces planned to land at Tsingtao and then push inland to cut China's north-south military lines at Tsinanfu.

How "Fauntleroy," Story of "Dearest," Came to be Written

VIVIAN BURNETT was nine or 10 years old when his mother decided to write a story about him. She would put him in a new world and see what he would do.

As a basic idea there was the tale of Cinderella, but this was to be a Cinderella story with a new twist, of a little American boy in an aristocratic English environment. Then came the problem: How to bring such a boy into close relationship with an English nobleman, frangible, conservative, disagreeable? He must live with him, talk with him, show him his small, unconscious republican mind. To heighten the effect the child must be one who has lived in the simplest way.

Eureka! Son of a younger son, separated from ill-tempered father because he has married a poor young American beauty. Young father dead. Boy comes into title! How it would amuse and bewilder him!

The actual writing of "Little Lord Fauntleroy" was easy, for, as Mrs. Burnett told later, it was in part lived before her eyes. Vivian and his older brother at times served as active collaborators. For example, a point in the narrative was reached where Cedric Errol had to be formally presented to his grandfather, the Earl of Derincourt, and Mrs. Burnett was groping for an idea. It came in the nick of time when Vivian brought into his mother's room a parlor baseball game which he tried to explain. From that grew an episode in the book.

IN LIKE MANNER Mrs. Burnett recorded almost every day something the boy said or suggested. "And how delightful," she afterward recalled, "it was to read the manuscript to him and his brother. He used to sit in the large armchair, holding his knee or with his hands in his pockets. 'Do you know,' he once said, 'I like that boy. There is one thing about him, he never forgets Dearest.'"

"When the first appearance of the false claimant occurred, he turned quite pale. So did his brother. 'Oh Dearest,' they gasped, 'why did you do that? Oh, don't do it! What will he do?' the occupant of the armchair asked. Won't he be the Earl's boy any more?" But that was the sentiment of the Vivian Burnett of the 1880's. Ten years later the "Dearest" flung after him on the Harvard yard became the bane of his life.

Besides being a charming story, a stage hit, and only yesterday a screen success, Mrs. Burnett's "Little Lord Fauntleroy" had another distinction. It happened to be the rock against which the craft of the English play pirates was definitely shattered.

In accordance with a general practice, a certain Britisher, disregarding entirely Mrs. Burnett's rights as author, made and produced a play from the story. Mrs. Burnett was in Italy when she learned of it. She went at once to England, wrote a stage version of her own, and in the courts fought vigorously for her rights and won them. In a testimonial the British Incorporated Society of Authors expressed its appreciation of her spirited action and its influence upon the copyright laws.

Among the names that were signed to the testimonial were those of George Meredith, Grant Allen, Oscar Wilde, Walter Bant, Arthur W. Pinero, John Strange Winter, Edna Lyall, W. E. Norris, James Fyfe, Justin McCarthy and Harold Frederic.

KINGSTON TROTTER WINS

Owned and driven by H. Corcoran, Jus Pete proved much the best as he chalked up a straight-heat victory.

"Exclusive" At The Dominion
It is Exciting Story of Newspapermen and Workings of Modern Press
"Exclusive," a powerful story of a newspaperman who placed principles ahead of life itself, only to have his own daughter undo his work brought Fred MacMurray, Frances Farmer, Charlie Ruggles and Lloyd Nolan to the screen of the Dominion Theatre today.
The story concerns the efforts of a corrupt politician, played by Nolan, to wreak vengeance on a reform newspaper by establishing his own scandal sheet which he uses for blackmail purposes.
"Exclusive" is an important picture in that it is the first film using the newspaper business for a background which provides an accurate insight into the workings of clean journalism versus the "yellow" and scandal sheet variety. It is also important because it presents newspaper people as newspaper people know them—not the ever light-hearted, wise-cracking, more often than not drunken cynics, but men imbued with high ideals and the courage to pursue them.
The second feature is "Blonde Trouble," starring Eleanor Whitney.

COLUMBIA THEATRE
Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey frolic with a new leading lady in "Mummy's Boys," their own crazy conception of braving mysterious death in Egypt's graveyard of the Pharaohs. Customs of Savage Tribes

Bows and arrows were used as weapons by Indians all over North and South America when the white man came. They still are employed by some Indian tribes, and are in common use by tribes in Africa and certain Pacific islands.

Young Borneo natives "fishing"

In New Guinea, a bamboo bow is used. The bamboo piece is sometimes seven feet long. A five-foot arrow is fitted to the string and can be shot with great force for a distance of 200 yards. Slings are used by some tribes. The Yaghan Indians can sling a stone 100 yards, and can hit a small mark at a distance of 25 or 30 yards. Slings are also used to give greater speed and distance when a spear is hurled.

In Tasmania the natives use a "woody." This is a club which is thick at both ends. It is about two feet long. When it is hurled, it whirls rapidly and whizzes through the air to a great distance, sometimes more than 200 yards.

Warriors of an African tribe, the Niam-niams, are armed with wicked-looking battle axes. The axes are three-bladed and twist around and around when hurled at an enemy.

Perhaps the most interesting savage weapon is the blowgun which was mentioned yesterday. In the Brazil jungles, the Indians make their blowgun barrels from long reeds. Natives of Pacific islands commonly use bamboo for the barrels, which may be as long as 42 feet.

There is a mouthpiece, and the savage blows with all his might. Out comes a tiny poisoned dart, silently flying on its message of death. Birds may be struck at a distance of 30 yards.

In Borneo, the natives sometimes go fishing with small bows and arrows. It takes skill to shoot a fish under water, for the fish is not just where it seems to be when a person looks at it "on a slant." The Borneo folk know how to fire their arrows so as to hit the fish, and succeed in obtaining a large number of them. Boys in the tribe take part in fishing trips of this kind, wading in shallow water and shooting fish of small size.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"
SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1937
According to astrology, this should be a most auspicious day for labor—endeavor. Under this way organizations should gain power.
Under the government of the stars, persons in business and industry may be subject to planetary influences which encourage conferences and compromises.
This is a day to enjoy relaxation from responsibility. It is lucky for amusements and recreations.
Manufacturing will be pushed and steel and iron products will be in extraordinary demand. Death of skilled workers in many trades may cause scarcity.
Astrologers stress the fact that there is no longer possible isolation for any nation and that war of world war reverberations in this country.
Increase in the consumption of hard liquors will cause widespread discussion and will encourage movements to restore prohibition.
Women are counseled to avoid the use of alcoholic beverages, for the planetary aspects appear to presage spread of the habit of over-indulgence in drinking.
Persons whose birthdays it is have the augury of a year of odd experiences to which romance contributes interest. For older men and women memories of past love affairs may be revived by reunions with half-forgotten friends.
Children born on this day may be serious of mind and active of brain. Subjects of this sign usually have a sense of responsibility in meeting life's experiences.
Those who have celebrated it as a birthday include Felix Grundy, jurist and statesman, 1777, and John Ireland, archbishop, 1838.

Look Before You Leap

Study Person You Are To Marry

PERHAPS the strangest thing about marriage is that we look upon it as a gamble whose results no one can foretell. We justify our divorces on the ground that the men and women we chose for life partners turned out to be not at all the kind of husbands and wives that we wanted. Why, really we hadn't the slightest idea they were like THAT!

This is a great and unassailable alibi, though it is not flattering to our intelligence. Moreover, it leaves unsolved the great mystery of how any two people can get familiar enough to feel that they are necessary to each other's happiness and that they cannot live apart without finding out something about each other's mentality and manners, habits and characters.

Yet it is done continually. The standing excuse offered by thousands of philanderers is that they are married to dull, stupid women who bore them to tears and that they have wandered away from home in search of the companionship and understanding that their wives cannot give them.

Natural enough. But why did these clever, highly-educated men pick out these Dumb Doras for wives? How could they escape in the days of courtship from discovering that these little nitwits were short on grey matter, for lack of brains is something that cannot be covered or hidden. It sticks out like a sore thumb.

How was it possible for men, to whom books were as necessary as food and who were keenly interested in everything that goes on in this old world, to spend hours and hours in the society of girls who never even read the daily paper or who cared for nothing that went on outside of their own circles without perceiving just how ignorant they were?

Women lack the desire as well as the art to conceal their faults because their vanity makes them think they are just about perfect as they are. And such as they are after marriage they were before marriage. They do not change.

Yet a man will go for years with a thin, nervous, temperamental girl who has to be handled with gloves and who goes off into rages whenever she is crossed without apparently even suspecting that she is a shrew, and that her husband will live in terror of her temper. A man will look at an uncouth girl and never deduce the fact that she will make a slovenly housekeeper, and that her husband will have to get up in the morning and get his own breakfast. A man will admire the finery of a girl who dresses beyond her means without suspecting that her husband will be sold into slavery to dress shops and milliners.

A man will be engaged to a girl who will make him jump through the hoop and roll over and play dead at her command, or to one who is so jealous she goes green-eyed if he even looks at another woman, without having it borne in on him that the husbands of these ladies will be bossed out of their lives and afraid to speak to their grandmothers.

Women seem as little able as men to profit by what they know of their mates beforehand. They are not even warned by the knowledge that they are investing their all in damaged goods, or in property on which some other woman has a mortgage, as is witnessed by the women who marry drunkards, rouses and ne'er-do-wells.

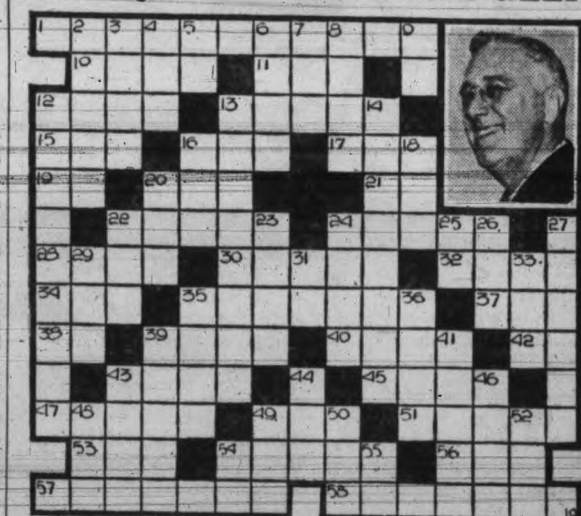

This may be explained by a sporting spirit which induces them to take a long shot at happiness. But how can you explain women marrying men they have known for years and years and then complaining because their husbands are as they are and not something else? Innumerable women, for instance, discover that they and their husbands are not affinities. They do not live on the same plane. They are all soul and their husbands are all business. They yearn for the finer things of life and their husbands are only interested in making money.

Why, you wonder, didn't these women discover this in time? How can a woman be engaged to a man without finding out something about his taste? Didn't they ever talk about what they liked? Didn't they ever discuss books or plays? When he writhed through a symphony concert and she prayed for strength to stand a musical comedy, didn't it suggest a thing to her? And, if not, why?

The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where tides occur in the tables, the tide rises or falls continuously during three of the usual tidal periods.
The height is in feet and tenths of a foot measured from the average level of lower low water.

New Steamer Will Arrive Here Soon

Salacia, of Donaldson Line, On Maiden Voyage, Expected September 26
Donaldson Line's smart new steamer Salacia, now on her maiden voyage to the Pacific coast, will pass through the Panama Canal in a day or two and reach Victoria the morning of September 26, A. E. Shanks of Rithet Consolidated Limited, local agents, said this morning.

Capt. James Cook, for the last 10 years master of Gracia, of the same service, is in command of Salacia. A. Reid, formerly chief engineer of Modavia, who was ashore in Glasgow while the new ship was building, is aboard as chief engineer.

STREAMLINED FUNNEL

Harland and Wolff, builders of so many famous ships, constructed Salacia on the Clyde. She is of 8,200 tons, deadweight, and is of the complete superstructure type with bridge and forecastle decks. She has a raked stern, cruiser stern, two masts and a single, streamlined funnel.

She is 425 feet between perpendiculars, with a 57-foot beam and a depth of 38 feet 9 inches. On her trial runs she maintained a speed of 16½ knots. Fully loaded she will travel at 15 knots between the United Kingdom and the Pacific northwest.

The main propelling machinery is of the latest design of Harland, Burmeister and Wain five-cylinder, two-cycle double-acting type. Seven bulkheads divide the vessel into five cargo holds, motor room and fore and after peaks. She also has a deep tank in No. 4 hold, with a capacity of 820 tons. This tank is double riveted and is suitable for the carriage of oil.

A feature of Salacia will be three two-berth passenger cabins, with all modern conveniences.

B.C. MINISTER IS PRESIDENT

Hon. F. M. MacPherson Elected to Head Canadian Good Roads Association

ST. ANDREWS, N.B.—After a day of lectures and discussion, final business at the convention, of the Canadian Good Roads Association, Thursday, included unanimous adoption of a resolution urging various safety measures, election of officers and directors and presentation of the report of the retiring president, Hon. A. S. MacMillan, Minister of Highways of Nova Scotia. The new president is Hon. Frank M. MacPherson, Minister of Highways of British Columbia.

Presented by the resolutions committee, the resolution on highway safety reads as follows: "That the Canadian Good Roads Association, noting with grave concern the appalling constant toll of death, physical injury and enormous property losses due to road accidents, and believing that amelioration of prevailing conditions can only be achieved by education in safety and the adoption of modern safety measures, does strongly urge for the careful consideration of all provincial and municipal government the following measures:

"Incorporation in all new highways of the most advanced engineering principles and practices; disregard of local political considerations in the design, location and construction of highways; avoidance of all densely congested areas on main routes wherever possible by the provision of by-passes; adoption of divided highways on heavily traveled routes, or due provision in present plans for their future construction; highway illumination where warranted by volume of traffic; restriction of speed on certain routes; adoption of the financial responsibility law by those provinces where it is not in effect; delegation to provincial engineering departments of a large measure of control over policing of the highways and the rigid enforcement of the traffic laws; suspension or cancellation of licenses of drivers guilty of repeated infractions of the traffic laws or adjudged in fault in serious highway accidents; and examination of all applicants for driving licenses to determine their mental and physical fitness to drive motor vehicles."

Among the officers elected is Hon. Charles M. Dunn, Saskatchewan Minister of Highways, fourth vice-president.

Directors elected include H. S. Carpenter, Regina; Hon. W. R. Clubb, Manitoba Minister of Public Works; Arthur Dixon, British Columbia deputy Minister of Public Works, and Hon. W. A. Fallow, Alberta Minister of Public Works.

FAMOUS SHIP IN DRYDOCK

H.M.S. Conway, Laid Down More Than Century Ago, Gets New Timbers

After close to a century afloat, H.M.S. Conway, one of the few survivors of Britain's "wooden walls," is in the Victoria Dock, Birkhead, England, for extensive alteration and repairs to make her serve for another 100 years.

Already a new galley has been constructed and other internal improvements carried out. All faulty timbers between the waterline and the gunports are being replaced by specially preserved oak of a reputed age of 200 years, each plank of which has undergone a special "steaming" process to enable it to be bent to fit the contour of the vessel's sides. It is more than 40 years since the Conway had extensive repairs.

H.M.S. Conway, formerly H.M.S. Nile, was first laid down in 1827, but took 12 years to complete, so that her centenary will not be reached until 1939. She was loaned to the Mercantile Marine Service Association in 1876 as a cadet ship, principally for training youths desirous of entering the merchant navy as navigating officers.

Before becoming a training ship, however, she was engaged in the making of naval history in the Baltic against the Russians and off North America.

The present skipper of the liner Queen Mary trained aboard the Conway and in her John Masfield, the poet laureate had his first taste of the sea. More than 6,000 cadets have passed through her training courses.

Another Notice to Mariners, issued by Col. A. W. R. Wilby, local agent for the Department of Transport says the light and fog alarm at Gallows Point, Nanaimo Harbor, will be out of operation for a few days, starting on or about September 14, to enable the construction of a new shelter. During construction a white fixed light will be shown from a coal oil lantern.

Palatial Schooner In Harbor Today

Ms. Invader Carries Crew of 11 and 18 Passengers; 32 Years Old

Ms. Invader, one of the Pacific coast's finest schooners, came into the Inner Harbor overnight and her towering masts and slith white hull were glanced at by many Victorians as they passed over the Causeway on their way to work. Others, more interested, paid a visit to the Island Tug and Barge Company's wharf to have a closer look at the handsome craft.

For the last two weeks Invader has been cruising Vancouver Island waters with Mr. and Mrs. Chico Marx of Hollywood, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Berg of New York and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Casey of San Francisco.

After a two-day visit at Victoria she will put to sea, en route to San Pedro. Her passengers will make the long sea voyage.

LOCAL BOYS ENGAGED

Four members of her crew of 11 left the ship here and were sent to Seattle, en route home. Four Canadian boys from Victoria will be signed on for the trip south.

Present owner of Invader is Capt. George Gernert of Los Angeles. He is a big game hunter of note, formerly making annual trips to India and Africa.

"But for the last five years I've stayed in the United States," he said this morning. "I wanted to get my papers, I'm German, and when Hitler came in I wanted my papers more than ever."

Berg is personal representative of several big movie stars of Hollywood, including Clark Gable and Wallace Beery; Casey is a tennis player and Sydney Rusano, another passenger, is a bridge player of note, having won the Vanderbilt Cup in New York.

Invader was built in Boston in 1905. At one time she was owned by Joseph Schenck, movie producer, and husband of Norma Talmadge. She is 136 feet in length, with a beam of 25 feet. She carries 18 passengers in luxurious accommodation.

Grounds at Launching

NEW YORK—The new $50,000 yacht of Mrs. Doris Duke Cromwell, "world's richest girl," got off to a bad start. A bottle of 1926 champagne banged against her trim sides as she slid gracefully down the runway into the Harlem River. The applause died, however, when the tan-and-cream yacht stuck in the mud about 10 feet from shore. She had to be towed loose.

Chinese Crew Big Problem

They Refuse to Sail on Ship First Going to Port in Japan

SEATTLE—The problem of what to do with the 34 Chinese crew members who deserted the Japanese freighter China Exporter last Saturday night in Port Angeles remained a puzzle today for R. P. Bonham, local director of the Immigration Bureau.

Bonham thought he had the solution Wednesday when he arranged for transportation for the Chinese to their homeland aboard the British steamship Talthybius, of the Blue Funnel fleet.

Through their spokesman, Wong Chian Jai, formerly ship's steward of the China Exporter, the Chinese explained they left the ship in fear for their safety at the hands of Japanese officers of the ship, because of the under-estimated war in the Orient.

Yesterday, after their passages had been booked, they flatly refused to sail on the Talthybius, because she calls at Yokohama before continuing to Shanghai and other China ports. Their lives would be no more, they pointed, at Yokohama, than aboard the China Exporter with Japanese officers in charge.

Today the Chinese were still "guests" of the Immigration Bureau while officials looked in vain for a ship going direct to Shanghai. These are hard to find as Shanghai is now pretty well a closed port.
